GOLDEN JUBILEE AT ELLWOOD CITY OPENS ON SUNDAY

(Special To The News)
ELLWOOD CITY, July 25.—One of the finest and largest city-wide union church services ever to be held here will take place on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Lincoln high school football field and will mark the official opening of the Golden Jubilee celebration.

The celebration commemorates the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Ellwood City by Henry W. Hartman. A full program of activities is scheduled for each day of next week.

A noted speaker, Dr. Elmer Homrighausen, head of the Princeton University Theological Seminary, will bring the main address of the evening, and his subject will be a timely one, "The Place of The Church in World Crisis, And The Post War Period."

Huge Chorus
Another high-light of the huge union service will be the first appearance of the community chorus, composed of 150 voices of Ellwood's best singers, under the direction of Robert W. Taylor and William Matlock.

The chorus will also play a major part in providing background selections for the historical pageant, "America On Parade," to be presented Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

Opening Welcome
Burgess Clyde B. Hawk will give the official opening welcome of the Golden Jubilee. Rev. Herman Patton, pastor of the First Christian church, and president of the Ministerial Association will serve as chairman of the evening.

Other ministers to take part in the services will be Rev. R. D. Wilkey, Rabbi Marshall Stollman, Dr. Arthur M. Stevenson, Rev. F. H. Daubenspeck, Dr. C. Z. Bell, and Dr. W. E. Minter.

The American Legion color guards will take part in the opening and closing ceremony.

PA NEWS OBSERVES

No new detours are listed in the local area on the Detour Bulletin of the Pennsylvania Highway Department for the period ending August 7, and few detours are to be noted in the district. Four roads are listed as closed to traffic because of floods, with the notation that repairs are being effected as quickly as possible.

Walking seems to be one means of transportation which has not been outmoded as yet. Pa News observed a man walking up East Washington street outfitted in the costume of a woodsman, a complete outfit with high-top boots and a heavily loaded pack on his back. His only equipment other than his pack was a hand carved walking stick. Here is a man who will never feel any ill effects of vehicle restrictions.

Reports indicate at autoists who drive their cars in this district without the federal use stamp attached are facing some difficulty, as check-ups are reported as imminent on the highways.

In connection with unsafe driving, Pa News saw a young miss coming down the street in a large limousine with both hands busily engaged in fixing her hair while the car steering wheel drifted free. What is (Continued On Page Two)

F. B. I. Director Warns Nation To Keep Watch

By JACK VINCENT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 25.—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, today issued a nationwide alarm for all law enforcement agencies and the public to be on the lookout for three "expert German saboteurs" who may attempt to enter the United States in an effort to dynamite American war plants.

This development, coming as the trial of eight other German saboteurs entered its 15th day, indicated that the nationwide hunt for the three expert German agents was based on information obtained from the eight Nazis on trial.

The saboteurs wanted were listed as Walter Kappe, Josef Schmidt and Reinhold Rudolf Barth.

Whether the three German saboteurs wanted are actually in this country is not known. Hoover started the man hunt explaining:

"The Federal Bureau of Investigation has ascertained that these three individuals have received extensive training in the methods of (Continued On Page Two)

AN EAST COAST PORT, July 25.—Every one of the 123 crew members and passengers aboard a medium-sized United States merchant ship sunk in the Atlantic was saved, survivors reported at this east coast port today.

The ship, carrying a crew of 57 and 66 passengers, was sunk about 100 miles off the east coast by a torpedo which struck in daylight. The attacking submarine was not seen.

The explosion destroyed one lifeboat and survivors left the ship in the remaining two lifeboats. Afloat only a short time, the survivors were picked up by a U. S. naval vessel, which brought them to port. Unusual for such an attack, there was neither loss of life nor injury.

U. S. Bombers Pound Jap Vessels Seeking New Guinea Landing

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, In Australia, July 25.—Forceful attacks by United States dive-bombers have driven Japanese cargo vessels seeking to land supplies at newly-won enemy positions in Papua back to the north, and with them probably numerous troop-laden transports, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The Allied fliers, it was revealed, were allowing the Japanese little time to consolidate their positions on the coast of Papua and unleashing 45,000 pounds of demolitions and incendiary bombs on installations during a new raid on Gona.

Both bombers and dive bombers, including the Douglas A-24, one of America's speediest attack ships, took part in the continued attacks on Japanese barges, stores and installations on the southeast coast of New Guinea.

Large fires resulted from direct hits smashed into the target area, the communiqué said.

A number of Japanese cargo vessels were prevented from unloading the wares and forced to withdraw to the north under cover of Nipponese naval forces.

President May Have Power To Control Prices

By WILLIAM L. UMSTEAD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 25.—President Roosevelt is said today to be studying a report from Attorney General Biddle that the chief executive has authority under his wartime powers to halt inflation by freezing wages and prices while he awaits results of a labor-management agreement to avoid wage disputes.

Meanwhile, the administration's wage policies, as announced by the War Labor Board in its "Little Steel" decision, drew criticism in congress as a means of "speeding the inflation spiral."

There were also indications that the president may have to move against unlimited cattle prices to alleviate the meat shortage reported throughout the eastern states. Meat processors maintain that the upward trend of livestock prices has forced them to operate at a loss, due to price ceilings on retail and wholesale meat.

Indications also pointed to action designed to stop rising prices of other commodities not under the price ceilings.

Mr. Roosevelt called upon Biddle to decide whether he had the authority to personally freeze wages and prices without legislative action when congressional leaders reportedly asked that the problem be taken out of their hands. It is reported the attorney general ruled that the president holds the authority, under his wartime powers, to take action to halt inflation by executive order.

Army Supervision For Plant Guards

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 25.—The army has taken over supervision of civilian guards in all plants directly engaged in the manufacture of vital war materials, it was disclosed today by Col. Alonzo M. Drake, head of the central procurement district covering 14 states.

Drake said the private guards have been given the status of auxiliary military police, and are subject to military law. He explained:

"These guards will enforce the orders of military authorities, as do military personnel. They are not enlisted men, but they are civilians attached to the army in the field in time of war and subject to military law. They are also subject to the control of plant management, and will enforce the rules and regulations of plant management, as in the past."

MOSCOW, July 25.—Six hundred thousand German troops, aided by 2,000 tanks and the entire Nazi air force stationed on the Russian front, hammered at the gates of Rostov today and broke through one sector of the Soviet defenses.

Under orders from the Russian high command to die rather than retreat, Red troops in the Caucasus made the Germans pay lavishly in blood for every foot of the ground gained.

The appalling extent of Nazi casualties was disclosed in an official estimate revealing that 100,000 Germans, Hungarians and Rumanians have been killed during the past month on the Voronezh front.

Germans Claim City Of Rostov Now Shambles

(International News Service)

BERLIN, July 25.—By Official German Wireless.—The German news agency DNB today gave vivid details of conditions in the cities of Rostov and Voronezh, both of which have been claimed captured by German forces.

Soviet quarters have not confirmed the fall of Rostov, while it is well known that Russian troops still hold Voronezh. The Germans claimed to have captured Voronezh on July 7.

DNE said: "Rostov is a shambles. The Russians fortified practically every nook and cranny since last November." (Continued On Page Two)

Payroll Padding Charge Is Made

(International News Service)

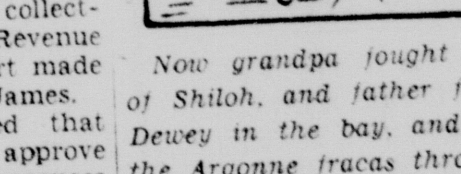

HARRISBURG, July 25.—Auditor General F. Clair Ross today was charged with "padding" his mercantile and inheritance tax collection payrolls by Secretary of Revenue Edward B. Logan in a report made public by Gov. Arthur H. James.

Governor James revealed that Logan was declining to approve deductions for payroll and expenses authorized by the auditor general "on the grounds that the amounts being deducted are 'unreasonable and thoroughly unjustified.'"

Ross is the Democratic nominee for governor in the November election, being opposed by Adjutant General Edward Martin, Republican nominee and a member of the governor's cabinet. Logan, until recently, was the governor's budget secretary.

In a "preliminary report" to the governor, Logan charged that the payrolls are being constantly increased, although the collections are declining. "More employees are being added continuously," he stated. Twenty-one of them, he stated, are members of the Democratic State Committee.

Now grandpa fought the battle of Shiloh, and father fought with Dewey in the bay, and uncle saw the Argonne fracas through, which leads me up to what I want to say, the men did all the fighting heretofore, with rifles, swords, a halberd or ax, but this war shows us something vastly new, for sister wants to go and join the WAACS. She's used to using powder (on her face) but now she wants the kind that shoots a gun, she wants to hand the Japs a nasty poke, she wants to look at Hitler on the run. Saboteurs' Trial In Closing Stages

May Continue Into Next Week

Statements On Progress Of Trial Becoming More Vague Than Previously

SEVEN GENERALS TO GIVE VERDICT

By JACK VINCENT

(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 25.—Military trial of the eight German saboteurs enters its closing stages today with two of the spies yet to take the witness stand before prosecution and defense attorneys close their cases and place the Nazis' fate in the hands of seven gold-braided generals.

The trial entered its fifteenth day and there was no official indication whether it would end late tonight, or require two or three days of next week. The latter was believed more likely by those observing the secret hearing.

Statements of the commission on progress of the trial were becoming more cryptic and vague. Some of the generals on it were reported to be piqued over the fact that those attending the trial were allowing some information to leak out despite the fact all had been sworn to strictest secrecy. Others were reported to be nettled over letters from the American public protesting over the way the trial has dragged out.

On Wednesday, the commission carefully noted that the first, second and third saboteurs had testified. Thursday, the trial was recessed while the defense attorneys went on a mysterious mission, interviewing New York witnesses.

Friday morning, the statement of the commission merely said "certain defense witnesses" had testified. At the end of yesterday's hearing, the generals suddenly announced that "the sixth defendant took the stand in his own behalf." No mention was made whether the four and fifth defendants had testified.

GERMAN TROOPS HAMMERING AT ROSTOV GATES

ing in that area is believed to have been surpassed at Rostov.

Over the flat, hot and dusty roads of the Don Steppes around Rostov, heavy air battles are raging without cessation.

Attack Supply Columns

Using American-built Douglas and Boeing two-motored bombers and their own formidable Stukovik dive-bombing craft, the Russians are attacking enemy supply columns hour by hour.

The main object of the Red Air Force is to prevent the Germans from constructing bridgeheads along the Don.

German bombers, protected by one fighter each, are flying in large, compact formations dropping parachutists behind the Soviet lines incessantly in an effort to disorganize the Soviet rear.

The Germans also are heavily bombing large populated points in the Rostov vicinity.

The Russians struck back savagely from the air, sending far-ranging American-built bombers to blast tanks and airdromes.

Red Star, official organ of the Soviet army, carried a dispatch from the Rostov front line in which it was conceded that the gateway city of the oil fields of the Caucasus is "in great danger."

Pressing Defenders Back

A formidable German force is advancing on the city in an attempt to break through and is gradually pressing the defenders back, Red Star said.

In the Soviet capital the situation at both Rostov and Tsimlyansk, on the Don river 125 miles to the northeast, was described as "alarming."

The high command said that terrific battles had been fought throughout the night around Voronezh and in the areas of Tsimlyansk, Novocherkassk and Rostov.

Nazi mechanized armies were driving in on Rostov from three directions, north, east and west.

Urging the Russian forces to defend the oil-rich Caucasus with their last ounce of strength the high command said:

"Will Not Retreat"

"The Russian watchword is 'We will die but not retreat.'"

The plight of the Russian armies in the Tsimlyansk area was increased when the Germans, after failing in a first attempt to establish a bridgehead on the south bank of the Don river, sent a second force across and succeeded in consolidating their position, Red Star said.

Other German troops are now forcing their way across the river, it was said.

Battles for crossings are occurring simultaneously at numerous points," according to Red Star.

"German pressure continues with increasing ferocity despite Soviet counter-attacks."

The Soviet defenders of Rostov were undergoing a great strain and their counter-attacks succeeded only in slowing down the tempo of the German drive.

The situation at Tsimlyansk was understood to be as menacing to the Russian cause as that at Rostov.

Relentless Tank Assaults

Large Nazi tank units conducted relentless assaults against Rostov's defenses in an effort to break through. Yesterday and today the Germans brought up reserves from a number of directions and forced wedges into the Soviet defense line.

The German tactics placed the Russians under threat of being surrounded and cut off. The Red Army battled fiercely to extricate itself from German encircling maneuvers.

Official Soviet sources admitted that the plight of Rostov was grave as the Nazis stormed the defenses of the North Caucasus capital but the German claim that the city already had fallen was not borne out in the high command communiqué.

Unofficial reports said desperate fighting was in progress in the streets of Rostov as Russian rear guard troops battled the onrushing forces of Nazi Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock building by building.

The city, reportedly ablaze from repeated Nazi aerial attacks, is a maze of tank traps, land mines and machine-gun nests. Every road is barricaded.

Impeded By Mines

Axis dispatches previously acknowledged that progress of the Nazi armies on the approaches to Rostov was impeded by numerous mines.

(In London the Daily Telegraph carried a dispatch stating that despite the formidable defenses of Rostov "loss of the city is only a question of a few hours.")

The main forces of the Marshal Semyon Timoshenko, the Soviet commander who drove the Nazis from Rostov last December after they had held the city only a week, had dropped back to the southern bank of the Don, but Russian opposition remained considerable.

The road down which the Nazis were advancing from Novocherkassk, 28 miles to the northeast, was continually pounded by American-made flying fortress and Douglas bombers.

Last-Ditch Stand

In the Tsimlyansk sector the Russian also were massed for a last-ditch stand on the southern bank of the Don. One break-through in this area by a Nazi regiment which skirted the waterway was acknowledged by Red Army commanders who said the German force had been routed.

"Our troops fought fierce engagements in the Voronezh, Tsimlyansk, Novocherkassk and Rostov areas," the high command said at midnight.

"At Tsimlyansk where the Germans are trying to cross the Don a regiment succeeded but was routed."

"Large forces are trying to break through to Rostov."

At Voronezh new German reserves are counter-attacking. On one sector the Russians crossed to the western bank of the Don.

"On the Bryansk front (southwest of Moscow) our troops occupied several villages."

A supplement was appended stating that heavy, bloody fighting was raging around Tsimlyansk.

The very strong Soviet counter-thrusts on the Bryansk front, as Russian troops broke through Nazi lines to capture a village.

The battle was said to be growing in intensity. It was initiated by the Russians several days ago.

A brief official announcement early this afternoon merely said that Soviet troops had fought the enemy in the areas of Voronezh, Tsimlyansk, Novocherkassk and Rostov during the night.

Sketch of Men Wanted

Washington, July 25.—Here is a thumb-nail description of three expert German saboteurs for whom the FBI launched a nationwide police search today:

Walter Kappe—Age 37; height, 5'10; weight, 230 pounds; build, stocky; eyes, grey; hair, blonde; complexion, fair.

Rheinhold Rudolf Barth—Age 35; height, 5'4; weight, 130-135 pounds; build, slender; eyes, brown; wears rimless glasses; hair, brown; complexion, fair; speech, speaks English with accent.

Joseph Schmidt—Age 33; height, 6'2; weight, 200 pounds; build, medium; hair, dark blonde, straight, parted on left side; eyes, blue; features, broad receding forehead, normal eyebrows, long narrow slightly humped nose, thin lips, thin chin; complexion, ruddy; teeth, baccato stained.

Pa New sees that quite a few of our local citizens are owners of very trim motor boats. Some go out of town to nearby lakes to launch them. Others stay at home and have fun, running up and down our rivers where they can find any depth. We have a local boat club situated along the Shenango River near the Harbor bridge.

Announcement from Harrisburg that surprise air raid tests are to be scheduled in the near future, provides a problem for the local area. In order to have surprise tests, there must be some signal that will be distinctive for air raid alarms only. So far none has been arranged. high command in the Netherlands announced today over the Nazi-controlled Dutch radio.

Reich commissioner Arthur Seyss-Inquart changed the death penalty of two others charged with the same offense to 15 years in prison each.

LONDON, July 25.—The Vichy radio asserted a broadcast heard by Reuters today that tremendous explosions which disintegrated blocks of houses were hindering German occupation of Rostov.

The least from innumerable fires was said to be terrific. Buildings on principal streets were said to be in ruins.

Russian troops, it was added, are resisting the Nazis in hand-to-hand fighting in the suburbs.

LONDON, July 25.—Lewis O. Douglas, deputy director of the war shipping administration, has arrived in London to discuss shipping problems with British officials, it was announced today.

He was accompanied by Richard Bissel.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Appointment of an American admiral as supreme unified commander of the anti-submarine air, land and sea forces on this side of the Atlantic is being urged in certain high United Nations naval quarters today.

Failure of the United States to have all the anti-submarine forces under one supreme command is regarded by some of our closest naval allies as a mistake.

LONDON, July 25.—The Exchange Telegraph Company said today that the Vichy radio broadcast a report that the Chinese capital of Chungking had been bombed for three hours Friday.

(The German wireless, reporting a dispatch from Tokyo yesterday, said that Japanese bombers had made a three-hour attack on Chungking Wednesday. There has been no confirmation of this report which apparently is the same put out by the Axis-controlled Vichy radio.)

CAIRO, July 25.—Seven separate attacks by pilots of the U. S. Army Air Forces on the Axis ports of Benghazi and Tobruk in Libya during the past week were announced today in the first bulletin from headquarters of the U. S. Army Air Forces in the middle east.

The American pilots are commanded by Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton.

LONDON, July 25.—President Roosevelt and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek will make a joint appeal in the near future to Mahandas K. Gandhi not to plunge India into anarchy, the Exchange Telegraph Co. reported today in a dispatch from New Delhi.

A similar appeal will be made to Great Britain to settle the Indian question to the satisfaction of the Indians, it was declared.

LONDON, July 25.—An American army of 12 million men is a distinct possibility, the Daily Sketch declared today in a dispatch from its New York correspondent. But this is a development of the comparatively distant future, the Dispatch added.

"It would be a mistake to overestimate the importance of taken American forces on the various battle fronts at the present time," the Sketch said. "To do so would only pave the way for disillusionment during the next critical one hundred days."

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear beloved mother, Alice H. Mears, who died one year ago today, July 25th. Sadly missed by her daughter.

ALLENE AND CHILDREN. 11*

Deaths of the Day

John F. Scherger.
A lifelong resident of Lawrence county, John F. Scherger, aged 75, of R. D. 1, New Castle (Gardner), died suddenly at his home this morning at 7:50 o'clock. Mr. Scherger, in his usual health this morning, was up and about the house when he was stricken suddenly with a heart attack.

He was born in Lawrence county on July 21, 1867, a son of John and Mary Marquardt Scherger. Mr. Scherger, who was retired, had formerly worked at the New Castle tin mill for 45 years.

Survivors are his wife, Sara Bevan Scherger, to whom he was married on September 1, 1892; a daughter, Mary J. Scherger, at home; two brothers, Frank Scherger of Gardner, William Scherger of East Liverpool, O., and one sister, Mrs. Christina Hedrick of Wilkinsburg, Pa.

The body has been removed to the R. L. Boyd funeral home, North Jefferson street, where funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Castle View Burial Park.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9, Sunday afternoon and evening from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 and Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Wilda M. Daugherty.
Mrs. Wilda M. Daugherty, aged 59, widow of Lewis L. Daugherty, 802 Bonzo street, died at the home of her son, Arthur L. Daugherty, 1411 Huron avenue, Friday evening at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Daugherty, who had been ill a week, died suddenly with a heart attack.

Mrs. Daugherty was born in Beaver county on March 23, 1883, a daughter of George R. and Mary Jane Pezell Bonzo. She was a member of the First Christian church, and the Iretta V. Dart Sunday School class. Her husband preceded her in death in 1918.

Survivors are one son, Arthur L. Daugherty of this city; two grandchildren, Barbara Ann and Joan Marlene Daugherty; one sister, Mrs. Elvira Book of New Castle, and two brothers, Elton Bonzo of New Castle and Raymond D. Bonzo of Los Angeles, Calif.

Funeral services are to be conducted from the R. L. Boyd funeral home, North Jefferson street, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

The body is being taken from the R. L. Boyd funeral home to the home of her son at 1411 Huron avenue late this afternoon and will be returned to the funeral home Monday morning at 11 o'clock for services at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Jevon.
After a long illness, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Jevon, aged 62, died this morning at 6:30 o'clock at the home of her uncle, S. J. Shadick, 1004 Highland avenue.

Mrs. Jevon, born in England on September 10, 1873, a daughter of William H. and Ann Bourne Shadick, was a member of Trinity Episcopal church here.

Mrs. Jevon was at one time principal and proprietor of the Devon shorthand school located on East Washington street in this city. From here, she went to Wilkinsburg where she taught shorthand and typewriting in the Wilkinsburg high school. She went afterwards to Schenley where she conducted Monday as a teacher, and retired about six years ago.

Mrs. Jevon was co-author of the text book, "Twentieth Century Typewriting," a standard text book that is in use in about 10,000 schools in the country.

Survivors are one son, Victor A. Jevon, a brother, W. H. Shadick, Jr. of New Castle, and two sisters, Miss May Shadick of New Castle and Mrs. C. C. Newell of Ambridge.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, the body will be taken from the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, to the Shadick residence, 1004 Highland avenue, where funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Robert M. C. Griswold, rector of Trinity church, will officiate. Interment will be in Castle View Burial Park.

David Leishman.
David Leishman, aged 65, of 1201 Cunningham avenue, died suddenly at his home Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock with a heart attack. Mr. Leishman had been in his usual health and worked yesterday.

Born in Alloa, Scotland, on January 28, 1877, a son of Robert and Jane Walls Leishman, Mr. Leishman came to this country in 1923. He was employed by subsidiaries of United States Steel until recently when he was employed by the A. M. Byers Co. of Ambridge as a machinist. Mr. Leishman attended the First Presbyterian church.

Surviving are his wife, Mary Elizabeth Walker Leishman, to whom he had been married for 38 years; the following children, David, Jr., Elizabeth and James, at home, Adam of Ellwood City, R. D. 1, Jean of Brooklyn, N. Y.; two grandchildren, and two brothers in Scotland.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence with Dr. J. J. McIlwaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in charge. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

The body, removed to the Ritchie funeral home, South Mill street, will be taken to the residence this afternoon.

Shepp Funeral Time.
Regular mass for Charles A. Shepp, 1712 Highland avenue, will be Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Mary's church. The funeral party will leave the home at 9:30 o'clock.

Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Fines Imposed For Violations Of Blackout

Charges of blackout violations, preferred by Chief Air Raid Warden Frank Sargent, today had brought three men before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing.

A fine of $50 was placed against Robert R. Blank of the Keystone Furniture Co., East Washington street, and a fine of $25 against Charles Golia, of the Penn Auto Stores, East Washington street.

Lights burned in those stores through Wednesday night's total blackout, the complaint said.

Another fine of $25 against Andy Shellok, Chartes street, was suspended after Chief Warden Sargent submitted some additional testimony in the case. Shellok had been accused of making trouble with air raid wardens on the South Side.

Girl Scout Camp Filled To Capacity

Many Registrations Necessitate Waiting List To Be Formed For Campers

With camp yet two weeks away all places in girl scout camp are full and names are being placed on a waiting list should a scout not be able to go.

Camping, as the girl scouts know it, is first and always, fun. But it is far more than recreation. It means enjoying and taking part in campfires, water sports, and other activities, of the entire group as well as those of her unit. At camp, the girl's life is enriched by contact with leaders who are not only specialists in campcraft, nature, lore, music, dramatics or arts and crafts but leaders who are her friends and understanding counselors as well.

The complete list of counselors and girls will be given in this paper in the near future.

DESERT BATTLE AIR ACTIVITY IS ON LARGE SCALE

tacked a well-escorted merchant vessel in the Ionian Sea which was set afire and halted."

The surprise offensive which Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck launched Tuesday night and which virtually halted yesterday improved the position of the British Eighth army for future attacks. The British now hold strategic heights and ridges all along the 35-mile line from the coast to the Qattara depression. They are digging in and strengthening these positions.

Heavy Air Activity

Air activity continued on a heavy scale. A final check-up today showed that at least 24 enemy planes were destroyed or damaged in the lightning air raids on the Axis field at El Daba Thursday night and Friday.

Light British naval units shelled Mersa Matruh for the seventh time Thursday night. More than 2,000 shells have been thrown into the small port which now is virtually demolished and of little use to the Axis as a supply base.

Military circles in Cairo warned against expecting any sudden or spectacular triumph in the desert campaign. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Korps has been stopped, but it is by no means beaten yet, and is still full of fight, they declared.

The enemy has fought stubbornly over every mile of the recent British advance.

Both sides are troubled and handicapped by supply problems and a sudden surge of reinforcements may easily change the whole complexion of the campaign, it was pointed out.

At the moment the Allies hold superiority in the air but this is counter-balanced by the Axis apparent superiority in ground equipment—heavier tanks and guns.

Both sides are making every effort to remedy these defects. Rommel is reported to have received considerable reinforcements since he was halted at El Alamein. A Vichy report, not confirmed by any allied source, said a large American convoy had arrived at Suez.

The persistent United Nations aerial assaults are believed to have forced several troop-laden transports back from landing points in addition to driving off the cargo vessels.

Meanwhile the Japanese attempted the first raid in some time against Port Moresby, advanced Allied base in New Guinea only 100 miles across the Owen Stanley mountain range from the new Japanese positions at Gona and Buna.

Eighteen Jap bombers escorted by 16 Zero fighters, attacked the United Nations airbase but damage was said to be only minor.

Young Bride Admits Her Spy Story Was Hoax

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 25.—Mary Phillips, 20-year-old bride of a few weeks, caused the FBI a lot of headaches with her story about being visited, bound and beaten by Nazi spies, but she finally admitted that she thought it all up herself in order to gain the attention of her husband, William.

"Ever since my husband got a good defense job, it seemed to me he was paying more attention to his work than to me," she said. "Then the idea came to me that if I could make Will think I had been visited by spies, he would love me again. I don't know what gave me the idea. That's all there is to it."

The bride's confession was made to Albert H. Johnson, Chicago FBI chief, after he and his agents had spent several days investigating her lurid spy story. She stuck to her guns until confronted with the fact that her "spy notes" were in her own handwriting.

Women Horn Tooters Want By Army

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 25.—Women horn tooters were being sought by the Army today.

Issuing a hurry call for girl musicians, the Army office at 39 Whitehall St., rushed completion of a female band needed for the women's auxiliary army corps, now in training at Fort Des Moines, Ia.

Maj. Ailyn M. Freeman, herself a horn-tooter of no mean repute, said formation of the band offered "a wonderful opportunity for young women musicians."

So, girls, here's your chance to jump on the bandwagon!

GARDEN RECEPTION AT RAMSEYS FOR NEWLYWEDS

A perfect moonlight night further enhanced the splendor of the lovely yard of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Ramsey, 419 Glenmore boulevard, who were hosts Friday evening at a garden reception. The event honored their son and new daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ramsey, nee Mildred Dods Price, who recently returned from their wedding trip.

Guests numbering upwards of 60 were present and mingled about the grounds which were beautified with light var-colored lanterns, offset with an abundance of blooming flowers, and a crystal pool, surrounded by a row of tall pine trees. The assemblage was served a buffet lunch. Seated at either end of the main table, Mrs. Harold Leach and Mrs. Earl Leslie, who poured. They were joined by Mrs. E. L. Young and Mrs. Charles Duff, aided Mr. Ramsey. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ramsey were united in marriage here on July 15, and for the present will be "at home" at 419 Glenmore boulevard. They received an array of many beautiful and practical gifts which were displayed at the Ramsey residence last evening.

Turn In Your Old Piano and Help the War Effort!

JOSEPH D. DONATI

Donati Says:-

According to a recent survey, there are more than 2,800,000 pianos in this country that are over 20 years old and may be obsolete because of style or tone. In fact America has a hidden stockpile of more than half a billion pounds of metal in its obsolete pianos. Most of these are stored in basements or attics and are dust-gathering eyesores. Scrapping them in the interest of Victory would mean little sacrifice on the part of the owners. They contain a wealth of metal which can be used to make tanks, and planes and will help to achieve our Victory.

A modern piano, contains an average of 160 pounds of cast iron, 3.6 pounds of brass, 5.5 pounds of copper wire and 40 pounds of steel. The over-age piano is a much bulkier affair and would yield considerable more metal.

Estimated conservatively, the nation's 2,800,000 obsolete pianos contain the following metals: 10,080,000 pounds of brass; 15,400,000 pounds of copper wire; 112,000,000 pounds of steel and 428,000,000 pounds of cast iron. In addition, they hold a potential yield of 6,000,000 pounds of felt and millions of feet of high grade lumber. Player pianos also are a source of considerable rubber tubing.

Owners of ancient or unused pianos are urged to get in touch with our local salvage headquarters.

LOCAL MAN MARRIED IN WEST VIRGINIA

CAREY-DONEGAN EVENT IN ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Summer flowers accentuating the white theme, artistically arranged in a setting of palms and ferns and reflecting in the glow of stately lighted candelabra, decorated the altar of St. Mary's church for the wedding this morning, of Miss Mary Alice Carey, daughter of James T. Carey, North Mercer street, and Dennis Kenneth Donegan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis F. Donegan, Wilmington avenue.

Nuptial high mass was celebrated at 9:30 o'clock in the presence of relatives and friends of the couple, filling the church to capacity. Rev. Fr. Francis M. McCarter officiated, using the single ring service. Altar boys, Paul Carey, brother of the bride and Robert Capitola, served the mass.

Adding further to the impressiveness of the occasion, appropriate music was contributed throughout the service, by Frank Gribben, organist.

Entering on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, the bride was attractive in a frosty white marquisette gown made with short train, leg-o-mutton sleeves with point-on-shoulders and moulded bodice. The sweetheart neckline was centered with a shadow dart of seed pearls, matching her crown which held a fingertip veil, bordered with a band of lace. Her only jewelry was a strand of matched pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white prayer book, a treasured memento of her late mother, Mrs. Catherine Carey, covered with a dainty corsage of gardenias.

Miss Mildred Donegan of this city, cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and Miss Eleanor McLaughlin of McKeesport was bridesmaid. They wore similar gowns in dusty rose and poudre blue respectively, patterned with fitted bodices of taffeta, and bouffant skirts of matching net made to the length, with three-quarter sleeves. They carried colonial arm bouquets to harmonize with their individual color theme, and adorning their heads were matching crowns of flowers.

Robert Edwin Donegan served his brother as best man, and Tom Carey brother of the bride, ushered.

Congratulations were received afterwards in the church vestibule, and immediately following, a wedding breakfast was served the bride party, at The Castleton. Appointments were in keeping with the nuptial motif.

This afternoon and this evening, friends and guests of the couple, are being received at an informal reception at the Carey residence, with a buffet lunch being served.

The bride, who has been feteed at a series of lovely parties and showers, graduated from New Castle High School, and is associated in the offices of the Smith Dry Cleaning Company of this city. Mr. Donegan attended the local high school and completed a course in trade school. He is affiliated with Johnson Bronze Company as a Departmental Foreman.

Mr. and Mrs. Donegan received a collection of beautiful shower and wedding gifts, which were displayed at the bride's home, 904 North Mercer street, where they will take up residence upon returning from a weeks trip to the lakes.

Included in the out of town guests present at the wedding, were two brothers of the bride serving in the U. S. Army, Sgt. James Carey of Fort Bragg, North Carolina and Private John Carey of Paris Island.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN CHILD IS EASIEST TO TEACH

A term of great significance to those engaged in research on the growth and development of very young children is "maturation." By that is meant the degree of physical development of the child just as a matter of growth, independent of learning.

To the layman it is obvious that the baby of three cannot profit from being taught how he can stand on his head alone, or to recite the multiplication table. Yet nearly all parents assume that they can, by adding and adding the child, make him talk and walk much earlier than he would without their assistance.

In a few instances the child is, no doubt, speeded up in the development of these skills through the efforts of his caretakers, but in many cases the chances are, indeed, that the average child would walk and talk slightly earlier if let alone.

Urging the infant to walk and he may be induced to make trials for which his physical development and earlier coordinations are not ready, and in that case frights he sustains from quick loss of balance or from bumps may deter him from trying again, even long after the time when he would have ventured the first step if he had not been interfered with.

Don't Force Child

Whether we try to induce the child to walk or talk, our zeal to have him succeed tends to cause us to pass beyond the stage of mere persuasion to that of coercion. The child, annoyed once by this treatment, is the more disposed to be annoyed again by similar treatment. Before we know it we have cultivated in him stubbornness in respect to our efforts to assist him.

Any parent must have observed that the young child beginning speech and locomotion makes more progress when he is obviously happy and good-natured. It is under these conditions that he undertakes new attempts in walking, and utters new sounds and new words.

Perhaps the biggest trouble to us as parents is our pride. Little Lucifer, the neighbor's baby, has been talking and walking for several weeks and we are sure our child is much smarter than Lucifer; he, therefore, ought to walk and talk as well or better.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. My 10-year-old boy begged us for months to get him a dog. At last we purchased one for him. He took good care of this dog for three days. Since then he will not care for it unless forced to do so. What would you advise?
A. After one clear warning, dispose of the dog immediately. It is unwholesome for a child to have a pet without taking responsibility for its care.

The World and the Mud Puddles

OTHER HEROES

Back here in America, waiting eagerly for the word that our troops have again struck hard and successfully at the enemy, we seldom hear of the sweaty and heroic work of those who prepare the ground for them.

They are unsung heroes, but if it were not for them, there would be few successful battles. They deserve the warm praise and support of the American people.

They push highways through the forests and across the deserts. They take huge loads of oil and gasoline, cement and lumber, hardware and food from cargo vessels tied up at any old kind of a dock. They haul them despite all kinds of heart-breaking obstacles to their destination. And then, often under fire, they prepare the fields from which grateful planes can take off or on which tanks can be serviced.

Some one, some day, will chronicle the work of these men pushing their ways through the jungles of Burma, the great tangled valleys and mountains of China, the heat-laden deserts of Africa or the frigid wastes of Russia or Siberia. They pave the way today for the successful offensive tomorrow.

They're getting on with their work. Reports come through from time to time giving a glimpse of the mighty preparations the United States is making to meet and nudge back the enemy in every corner of the world. The Flying Tigers of China will get more planes and supplies. The air fields set up to service planes that will bomb Tokyo are being developed. Caches of oil and gasoline are being accumulated in many secret places. Great roads are being pushed across the African desert.

The groundwork is being laid with solidly. And we, the American people, cannot show too much gratitude for the work of these men who handle the supplies and set up the facilities for action.

AUNT SOPHRONY ANSWERS JUNIOR'S 3,747TH QUESTION

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 8:21. Sun rises tomorrow, 5:53.

It's now up to every mother's son and every father's daughter.

When some men hear a good story down town they tell their wives when they go home. That's why stories get around so much.

These days a cheerful idiot is enviable.

ADAPTING THE SALES TALK

An elderly lady entered a shop and asked to be shown some tablecloths. The salesman brought a pile and showed them to her, but she said she had seen those elsewhere—nothing suited her.

"Haven't you something new?" she asked.
The clerk then brought another pile and showed them to her.
"These are the newest patterns," he said. "You will notice that the edge runs right around the border and the center is in the middle."
"Isn't that lovely!" said the lady. "I will take half a dozen of those."

Some birds talk so loud on a telephone who could use their voices to alarm people when an air raid happens.

Personable troubles excite nobody's sympathy any more.

WITH THANKS

Laboring mightily, a little lad was pushing a handcart loaded with broken stone, and ten times too big for him. A kindly passerby put his shoulder to the wheel and helped him.

When they arrived at the top of the hill, he said to the boy, in front of the crowd of idlers that had collected:

"I call it an outrage to give a kid like you a job like that! Why didn't you tell your employer it was too heavy for you?"

"And what did the big bully say?"
"Well, he said, 'Go ahead with it—you're sure to find some fool loafer on the way to give you a hand.'"

No doubt there are people who will ask for the loan of tires.

Give a married man a little freedom and he becomes suspicious.

War will be just as bad as Sherman said it was until a worse word can be found for it.

A woman bought a parrot recently, but decided she would take the bird back because it swore too much. She returned from the bird store with the same parrot.

"How come you didn't get rid of the parrot?" asked her husband.
"The man admitted that the parrot swore," the wife replied. "But he pointed out that it didn't drink or smoke or stay out late at night."

We owe an unseen stranger at the other end of a wire just as much courtesy as we do a friend sitting in the room with us. And quite as certainly we owe an apology or at least an explanation to the person at the other end of the wire who has been brought to the telephone for a wrong number.

Question: What is the rule governing the use of black-bordered visiting cards? By that I mean, after whose death are they used, and for how long?—Mrs. T.

Answer: Whether one uses black-bordered visiting cards is entirely a matter of individual desire. Most people do not use them. But if used at all, they are appropriate only at the death of a husband, wife, mother, father, son, daughter, brother or sister, and not a more distant relative. They are used only during the mourning period. As soon as mourning clothes are taken off the all-white cards should again be used.

CAUGHT

Rannells—Morrison has a predilection for talking in his sleep. Several times recently he mentioned the name "Naomi" in his dreams, and his wife questioned him about it.

Tony—How did he wiggle out of it? Rannells—"Oh, that," he said, thinking fast, "is the name of a friend's horse." But several days later when he came home and asked his wife the news of the day, she replied, "Nothing exciting happened, except that your friend's horse called you up twice."

Old cannon standing on public squares are now being used to make war materials. Some of them might come handy right where they stand later on.

Lots of farmers are falling off loads of hay. We used to fall ourselves when we were not careful in building the load.

ESSAY ON ANTS

A school teacher asked her pupils to write a short essay and to choose their own subjects.

A little girl sent in the following paper:
"My subject is 'Ants.' Ants is of two kind insects and lady uncles. Sometimes they live in holes and sometimes they crawl into the sugar bowl and sometimes they live with their married sisters."

"That is all I know about Ants."

You can bet that many things will happen in the near future.

Good Taste

A ban has been put on the making of parking meters. In some places it has been suggested that ones now in use be junked for old metal. Some people don't like parking meters and don't pay any attention when they see one.

Fifty years ago the land on which now stands the wonderful Ellwood City was all farm land and we walked over it many times. This shows what can be done when the right people start things. Big time there all next week and you are urged to visit Ellwood City.

But now he's forty they look askance When Johnny himself just raves and rants Because he wants a cuff on the pants.

In her school essay on parents a little girl wrote: "We get our parents when they are so old that it is impossible to change their habits."

My typist's away on vacation. My typist's by the way. She left me to do all the typing. "O brine back my typist to me! My typist's aw-py on vacation! a fact you can easily see— IT's odd how tees let's get mixed up!"

O brine back my tip to me.?

When a man gets an idea in his head it stays there," said a Yale psychologist who is evidently a bachelor.

We always feel better when we know what we have to do. Uncertainty is depressing.

A local doctor told us he likes the one about the two psychiatrists who met one another on the street. "Hello," said one of them to the other, "you're fine, how am I?"

Not that it is of any considerable importance, but darned if we can get the hang of slacks.

Half the world doesn't know how the other half lives in Washington.

Better be thankful that Britain had an empire. Would little England alone have been rich and strong enough to defend freedom?

Soldier Romances Will Bring Problem
Immigration Complications Threatened
Various Phases Of Situation Discussed

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Tariff protection is an issue involved in our army forbidding American soldiers, on expeditionary duty like Ireland, Iceland, Australia and maybe in additional areas to come from wedding native girls without the indorsement of the Yankee bridegroom's commanding officer in the case of each set of nuptials.

Immigration complications are threatened, too.

It's more or less difficult under present legislation for an alien, of either sex, to break into the United States as a permanent resident. If some damsel's admitted, in one way or another, and marries one of our local kids, there no chance that she'll be deported in normal times. Or, if one of our lads goes abroad in his individual capacity, in peace or in war, and contracts matrimony, there's no chance that his partner'll be denied the privilege of accompanying him on his return into his home country.

The coming situation, though, looks like a whole swarm of 'em.

It'll attract attention. Will or won't these girls from overseas be American citizens, on the strength of their foreign marriages to Americans? It's been all right to regard these cases hitherto as rare exceptions—too few to be worried about. To have 'em land in shiploads may be more puzzling to immigration authorities.

Moreover—
How about the fiancées of doughboys who respect their commanding officers and don't get married, but do agree with their overseas sweethearts to follow 'em back to the U. S. A. subsequently and then marry 'em? Will those girls rate as citizens or will they be alien-enemies under immigration regulations? It'll be a nice situation (won't it?) if an inductee and an Irish or an Icelandic or an Australian girl get engaged to be married as soon as the war's over, and then, after the inductee is home again, his beloved can't get into the country for the ceremony.

Besides, suppose a Yankee inductee has butted in the course of hostilities, into some Axis country. Perhaps he'll have infiltrated into Germany or one of the other Axis lands.

There are nice German girls, too. Perhaps the inductee'll have formed an affection for 'em. Will they be barred? Why dash-ding it! I've got generations-back German relatives—as good Americans as ever dated from Carl Schurz's time. Are their descendants' stung also?

It Was Different
I date to a time when we had had a good many aliens coming into the United States.

I never liked the idea of excluding Orientals arbitrarily—especially not Japanese (objectionable as they may seem now) or Chinese (though now they're popular), but I always thought the right kind of Europeans were desirable. If not how about our Africans? We'd have a heck of a time doing without 'em. We assimilated 'em so gradually that we don't recognize it, but what would we do otherwise?

Well, these gals from overseas may provide a problem.

WILD STRAWBERRY PATCH
In a far corner of a field they grew Wild strawberries, ripe to scarlet hue.

June's juicy bits of forthright joy provided for the hungry boy.

Time was the lad who once was I lilted at every patch he'd spy. And stayed, as healthy youngsters will, Until of sweet he'd had his fill.

Again in nature's generous ground Wild strawberries, red-ripe, I found And certain I should welcome be, I stopped to sample two or three.

But suddenly, the air was filled With fierce mosquitos, rapier-billed, Who drove me running from the spot.

With barbs a boy had minded not.

Well, suddenly, the air was filled With fierce mosquitos, rapier-billed, Who drove me running from the spot.

With barbs a boy had minded not.

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

One of New York's supposed-to-be-very-wealthy playboys left his entire fortune to four comely show girls when he died at the ripe but still eventful age of seventy-two.

The estate was supposed to amount to more than a million dollars.

Immediately there was a rush of relatives who tried to contest the will. There were scores of lawyers and yards and yards of legal papers.

The four heirs were in each other's hair and altogether it was as nice a fight as you would ever want to see.

In the course of events the so-called million-dollar estate was shown to amount to $2,000, and upon closer inspection it had shrunk to $3,632.

And what with expenses, legal fees and commissions, when the estate was finally probated it left the four girls flat.

Somewhere I read an old proverb: "The best way to get even with an enemy is to give him more money than he knows how to handle."

To have enough money for your needs is good. To have enough to enjoy the niceties of life is still better.

But it takes a fool or a very wise man to have too much of it.

The wise man would probably be happier with less and the fool would get just as much fun out of a handful of firecrackers.

Most people are allergic to money. As the case of the "rich" bachelor shows, even the anticipation of it can cause trouble.

"Only a dozen senators were on the floor."

That's what it said in the papers yesterday.

It's pretty hot in Washington. It's pretty hot in Egypt, too.

"Only a dozen senators were on the floor."

This is a good time to take a vacation but there are no vacations for the boys in Australia and Ireland and Iceland or on the Seven Seas.

"Only a dozen senators were on the floor."

Cordell Hull told us about the seriousness of the war situation. We can lose this war.

"Only a dozen senators were on the floor."

Well, Senator Mead finally has decided to run for governor of New York.

"Only a dozen senators were on the floor."

Thought for the day: The People are complacent.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
FORT DES MOINES.—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, national director of the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps: "You have taken off silk and put on khaki. You have a debt and a date. A debt to democracy. A date with destiny. You may be called on to give up your lives."

WASHINGTON.—Cordell Hull, secretary of state: "Liberty is truly won only when it is guarded by the same watchfulness, the same courage, the same willingness to fight for it which first secured it."

NOTTINGHAM, Eng.—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden: "When the history of our times comes to be written it will be clear not only that we have taken blows but also that we have given them. It will be clear that we have dared greatly."

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr. in urging addition of $2,400,000,000 to the country's tax bill: "In this kind of war, a tax bill can be a decisive battle. It could be lost by narrow vision and faulty leadership. It can be won by boldness and courage."

NO SUE-BEARS WANTED
The Smiths were in conference about hiring a certain applicant for cook.

"Don't take her," advised Mr. Smith. "I don't like her looks."

"But," protested his wife, "consider the reputation for cooking she bears."

"Makes no difference!" growled Smith. "We don't want any she-bears cooked. We don't like 'em."

WOMAN'S FACE CUT AS GLASSES BREAK

Mrs. Odessa Jones, of 701 West North street, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 20 o'clock this morning, for a laceration under the right eye, which required six stitches to close, received when an automobile door was slammed, striking her in the face and breaking her glasses.

Keep Calm, Cool Should Raid Come

People Can Help Themselves By Following Black-out Rules

Should an air raid come you can do you part while protecting yourself. Remember these six simple rules:

1. Keep calm and cool.
2. Stay home.
3. Put out lights.
4. Lie down.
5. Stay away from windows.
6. Don't telephone.

Don't run—walk. Don't scream—be quiet. Don't crowd into public places. If the raid starts when you are away from home, lie down under a shelter. Keep your mouth open by rolling your handkerchief and putting it between your ears. Protect your hands over your eyes. Protect the back of your head. Don't look up.

In the house, go into your refuge room and close the door. Make yourself comfortable. Relax. If bombs fall near you, lie down. A good place is under a table with sturdy legs, or a strong couch turned upside down.

Keep away from windows. Don't look out. Put out all lights you cannot closely screen, so no light reaches the street—the light that's out or covered tight will never guide a Jap!

Revised instructions. Make no attempt to shut off the main gas valve. Simply turn off the stove burners that are lit, not the pilot light. If the house is badly damaged, the main gas valve should be shut off. Once the main valve is turned off, for any reason, do not turn it on again yourself. Call for a trained man. Your local gas company is working out further detailed directions with your local defense council. Watch for these instructions, then follow them.

If an incendiary hits your house, go out it with a spray (never a stream, jet or splash) of water. It will burn spray—a splash or stream makes it scattered molten metal. When it is out, go back to shelter. The chance your home will be hit is very small. Keep cool. Stay off the streets. Again we say—keep cool!

Appoint one member of the family for your home ward to remember all rules. Mother makes the best!

Stay quiet indoors or under shelter till the "all clear" sounds. Don't believe wild rumors. Don't crowd. Don't scream. Don't telephone. Don't start disorder or panic. Do what the Air Raid Warden tells you to do. Be strong, be calm, be orderly. Lock the aggressors—everyone can help. Do your share!

Interpreters Badly Needed

Red Cross Needs Educated Persons To Translate Foreign Messages

Interpreters to translate messages received from foreign lands in the native tongues of that particular country are badly needed by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, executive director stated today.

Some messages received recently were sent to Pittsburgh, where through the courtesy of the Pittsburgh Chapter, they were translated, but because of the press of work there this cannot be done in the future.

In peace time this service was rendered by the National Red Cross office in Washington but with the inquiry and information service growing to such proportions, it has become necessary for the chapters throughout the United States to take over some of this burden.

Therefore, the Lawrence County Chapter wishes to contact individuals who are very well versed in the languages of Italy, Bulgaria, German, Hungarian, Norwegian and Albanian. It will be necessary that the translators not only speak but must read these languages and speak a very clear English as well as write the English language.

Any person feeling they can assist the chapter in this respect call at the chapter office, 33 North Beaver street.

GASTON POST TO MEET TUESDAY EVE

Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, will have its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, in the Legion Home at 8 o'clock. Commander Clarence S. Jarrett announced today.

During the months of July and August, the post has but one meeting a month, but a special meeting was held two weeks ago, to care for extra business which had arisen.

Cucumber pulp mixed with sour cream was a beauty formula used by Catherine the Great. It is still used by beauticians.

House Committee Told Why Higgins' Lost Contracts

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 25.—Chairman Emory S. Land of the maritime commission today offered a detailed defense of the commission's cancellation of the Higgins shipyard "Victory Ship" contract.

Testifying before a house merchant marine subcommittee, he made these observations:

1. Negotiations with Higgins were begun as a last resort;
2. They were started at a time when there was no tangible estimate of the amount of steel available;
3. The steel allocated to Higgins was found to be usable to better advantage in other yards;
4. There were serious problems of housing in the vicinity of the Higgins yard at New Orleans;
5. The "victory ships" are not fast enough to offer adequate defense against the submarine and;
6. The cancellation of the Higgins contract was an economical move because of the possible diversion of steel and equipment, despite an estimated loss of from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000.

German Alien Makes Escape

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—William Rondon, 33-year-old German alien who was interned because he was "potentially dangerous" was being sought by state and federal authorities today following his escape from a San Francisco alien detention camp guard.

He was arrested in May while working at a Richmond, Cal., shipyard and placed in the camp, where he has been doing mechanic's work. He told camp officials yesterday that he could get some needed motor parts at a San Francisco garage where he claimed he formerly worked. A guard drove him to the garage. Rondon went inside and disappeared, believed to have left the building through another entrance.

Irving F. Wilson, director of Immigration and naturalization offices in San Francisco, said Rondon jumped ship in San Diego in 1936.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

EARLY HOG MARKETING IS URGED THIS YEAR

Lawrence county farmers are urged to finish and market hogs early to help relieve expected congestion of transportation and slaughtering facilities this fall and winter.

Under normal conditions the supply of market hogs always is slack during the early fall months and the result is high prices. The farmer who takes advantage of these high prices plans his breeding and feeding operations to market his spring crop at that time.

This year, as a result of the response of the farmer to the request of the government to increase pork production to fill the needs of civilian use, armed services, and lease-lend purposes, the price of hogs has increased 23 per cent in number of hogs raised as compared with last year, and an 11 per cent increase over the previous record crop.

These animals also will reach the market at a heavier average weight per head than under normal conditions, because increased total tonnage of pork and cuts from heavier hogs are acceptable for lease-lend and armed forces use. This enormous increase in numbers and total tonnage will tax the existing facilities for slaughter to the limit during the late fall and winter months. Also, during this period enormous quantities of war materials will be coming off the production lines and transportation facilities will have to move them rapidly. As a result, a very serious situation is likely to develop in moving livestock to central markets and in handling them after arrival there. The large numbers marketed also will depress prices.

With these facts in mind, it is vitally essential that farmers having hogs on feed which they plan to market through central markets finish these hogs as rapidly as possible and get them on the market before the congestion develops.

There will be three decided advantages in this program:

1. Rapid gains through full feeding will be cheaper gains.
2. The market price should be higher than it will be later.
3. Early marketing will help relieve congestion in transportation and slaughtering facilities likely to develop in late fall and winter.

GROWN OWN NITROGEN FOR ORCHARD NEEDS

The "All Out for Victory Action" means the changing of some plans and practices to meet production demands.

During the spring season, nitrogen sources were curtailed or limited so much that many growers were obliged to use substitute fertilizers and present available information indicates that nitrogen will be difficult to obtain in 1943; in fact, all nitrogen and complete fertilizers probably will be rationed. The rationing of fertilizers is likely to cause hardships, but it also will stimulate growers to adopt practices to produce their own nitrogen, instead of depending entirely on commercial sources.

Legumes can be grown in the orchard to meet nitrogen needs. The most suitable ones are Ladino, red alsike, and sweet clover, also hairy vetch. A combination of legumes and grasses is preferred for a permanent sod cover crop, such as Ladino, red, and alsike clover, with orchard grass, timothy, Kentucky and Canadian bluegrass. For a less permanent sod, the clovers could be mixed with domestic ryegrass.

Lawrence county fruit growers will not have to change their orchard operations much, because most of the apple orchards are in sod.

To get an abundant growth of cover crop, it is necessary to lime and fertilize. Lime, phosphorus, and potash should be the first consideration. A soil test made by the county agent will give the amount of lime needed to grow legumes satisfactorily. In most cases the phosphorus and potash needs will be supplied by 300 to 400 pounds of superphosphate and 100 pounds of muriate or sulphate of potash.

Where the orchard already is in grass sod, apply required amounts of lime, phosphorus, and potash. Then disc up the sod to leave only about 30 per cent of the grass. If this operation is performed early enough in the fall, 1 pound of Ladino, 2 pounds of alsike, and 3 pounds of red clover should be seeded. This will result in a stand of the clovers as well as of volunteer bluegrass.

If the orchardist desires to increase the amount of grass, as well as legumes, he can seed 6 pounds of timothy and 4 pounds of orchard grass in the mixture. Where orchards have been clean cultivated, the clover and grass mixture may be seeded in the fall or if preferred the grass may be fall-sown and the clover broadcast in late winter or early spring.

Fall seeding has not proved so satisfactory in some sections as spring seeding; consequently, the grass sods in sections where spring seeding is preferred can be disc, fertilized, and seeded in the spring in the manner outlined for the growing of legumes for permanent sods.

Legumes will help the orchardist during the emergency, if the fruit grower will help them with lime, phosphorus, and potash.

CLIP TURKEY PASTURES TO IMPROVE THE GROWTH

When turkeys first go on range they are small and their capacity for consuming pasture grasses and legumes has not reached its limit.

Where there is a heavy growth of pasture plants, the stalks may become coarse and tough by the time the turkeys are big enough to eat most of the grasses and legumes. Also, as the plants get older and go to seed, the growth is checked. Therefore, turkey growers often find that they have more pasture than the turkeys can utilize in early summer but are short of green feed in late summer and fall.

Clipping of pastures when there is excessive growth helps to keep the plants from getting coarse and going to seed. As a result, new growth continues with ample rainfall, and the clipping helps to maintain a better supply of pasture when it is needed. The cutter bar should be set high to avoid cutting off the lower blades and leaves. This enables the cut grasses and legumes to recover more quickly and they are not so likely to scorch if hot, dry weather follows.

Extension Leaflet 79, "Poultry Pastures", a recent publication of the Pennsylvania State College, explains the varieties of grasses and covers their cultural methods that are best suited for turkey pastures. This leaflet is available from the local Agricultural Extension Association Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

Growers in past years who have found established pastures short during the fall months have had good results from the seeding of 10 pounds of ryegrass and 3 pounds of Dwarf Essex rape per acre in the last cultivation of corn. Both of these plants grow best during cool, moist weather and make good growth after the leaves have dried on the standing stalks or the corn is cut.

Landlady Slain By 67-year-old Man

Tries Suicide After Shooting In New England Town During Day

(International News Service)

WINTHROP, Mass., July 25.—A 67-year-old Spanish-American War veteran whose name was withheld, today shot his landlady, then slashed her throat and later his own with a razor, because he "loved her too much," police said.

Mrs. Jennie M. Dorgan, the landlady, died later on the operating table at a hospital where the war veteran was placed on the danger list.

The assailant, according to police, attacked the woman in her bed in the presence of her sister, Mrs. Julia S. Donnelly.

"I did it because I loved her too much," police quoted the veteran as saying.

Doctors removed a 32-caliber revolver bullet from Mrs. Dorgan's knee.

DETROIT TANKS HALT GERMANS

(International News Service)

DETROIT, July 25.—How a single British brigade equipped with Detroit-made tanks, checked for an entire day the advance in Egypt of two German panzer divisions with larger and more heavily armored tanks was disclosed today.

A notice sent to the Continental Motors Company by Lt. Gen. Breton Somervell chief of Army supply, was posted on the company bulletin board it read:

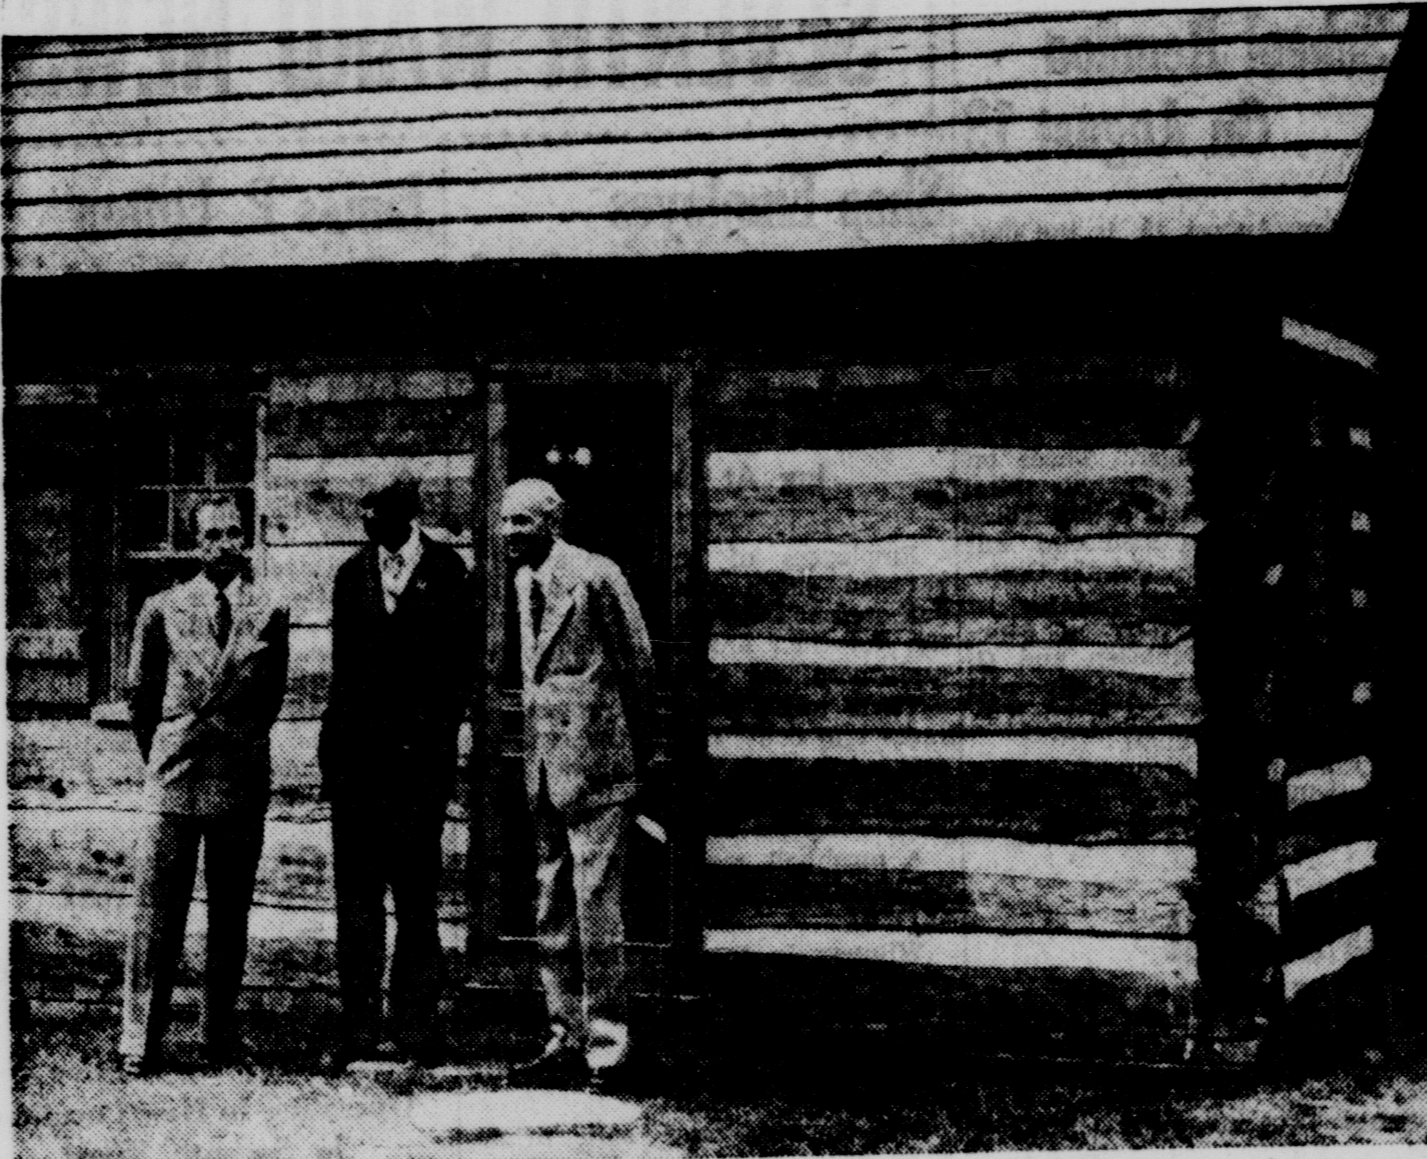

"A German officer captured during the desert battle declared that the effectiveness of the M-3 brigade was unprecedented in German army experience.

"You soldiers of production can be proud of your part in this battle. You keep them coming, and we will keep them fighting."

The custom of a man's removing his hat in the presence of a lady is attributed by some authorities to a medieval custom, which required that a knight lift his visor when a lady was present.

Ford Presents Laboratory to Negro Scientist

MARINES CROSSING PACIFIC ENACT EQUATOR RITES

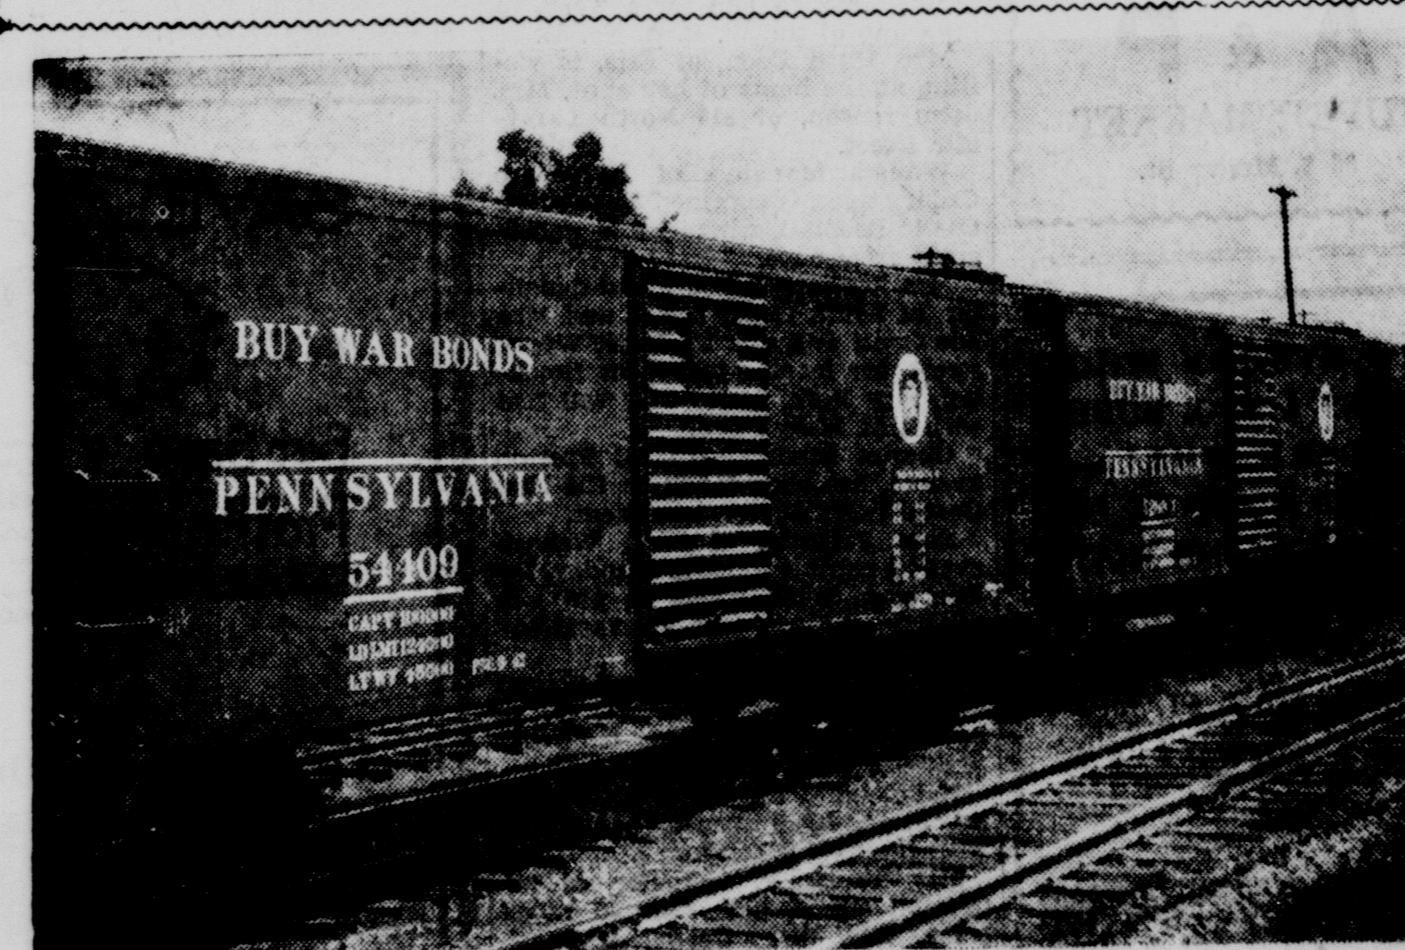

Though bound for the South Pacific war zone light-hearted United States Marines remember to observe the traditional "crossing the line" ceremony as their ship crosses the equator. King Neptune, lord of the sea, is duly honored as "pollywogs" (first time equator crossers) become "shellbacks" or veterans in a general rough house. Picture shows a Marine officer getting dunked in the ship's pool during the shellback ceremony.

TRIO IN RACE FOR N. Y. GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATION

A test of strength between President Roosevelt and his former campaign manager, James A. Farley, is shaping in New York state, where the chief executive has expressed his support of Senator James M. Mead in his attempt to secure the Democratic nomination for governor while Farley has been working to win the nomination for State Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr. A third seeker of the nomination is Lieut. Gov. Charles Poletti, who is backed by Gov. Herbert Lehman.

Nine-Foot War Bond Slogans On Freight Cars

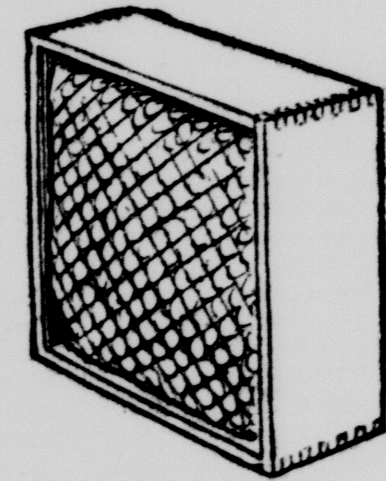

Some of the hundreds of Pennsylvania freight cars in the Erie and Ashtabula division which are being used to advertise the national war bond program. Each slogan is nine feet long and in huge white letters urges the public to "Buy War Bonds."

GERMAN BORN SOLDIER GIVEN PRISON TERM

(International News Service)

SHERIDAN, Ill., July 25.—Pvt. 1st class Hans Geisler, German born soldier in the U. S. Army, has been sentenced to five years in prison and ordered stripped of his citizenship because he praised Hitler and attended Chicago bund meetings, it was announced today.

Maj. Gen. George Grunert, commanding general of the Sixth Service command, announced the action taken against Pvt. Geisler at a general court martial which sat at Fort Sheridan.

Geisler was convicted of violating the 96th article of war. The Army court directed that Geisler be given dishonorable discharge from the Army and forfeit all pay and allowances due or becoming due.

Geisler told the Army court that he would rather give up his citizenship rights and be sent to a concentration camp than fight against Germany or Japan. Gen. Grunert said.

Geisler was born in Breslau, Germany, in 1905 and entered the United States in 1926. He was granted citizenship in Chicago in 1940. A year later he was inducted into the army as a selectee. He was a member of the National German Alliance and attended bund meetings once a month for three years, he admitted.

Bananas Needed As Steady Diet

Two Hundred Infant Victims Of Celiac Feel Shortage Of Bananas

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 25.—A serious shortage of bananas caused by the depredations of Nazi U-boats, is threatening the survival of 200 infant victims of celiac in New York city, it was learned today.

Because a steady diet of bananas is essential to any cure of the rare abdominal disease, Axis submarine attacks on Central and South American shipping have created a pressing health problem for authorities.

The strange malady and its stranger antidote came to public attention this week when a bunch of bananas was stowed aboard a Canadian Colonial Airways plane at LaGuardia Field.

They were destined for the sick-room of 22-months-old Margo Bradly, daughter of a Canadian newspaperman, whose life was placed in jeopardy by the dearth of bananas in Montreal.

A well-known specialist in baby ailments, who asked that his name be withheld, confirmed the fact that an alarmingly large number of celiac cases existed in New York City. "There are at least 200 babies suffering from it," he said. "They all must have bananas on their daily diets. The situation is really becoming serious."

Some criticism of nepotism is silly. If a congressman needs a confidential secretary, why shouldn't he choose his wife instead of a stranger?

Senator Lee May Be Re-nominated By Texas Voters

(International News Service)

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 25.—Senator W. Lee "Pass the Biscuits, Pappy" O'Daniel, the home folks radio favorite who became a national political figure, was conceded a 50-50 chance in renomination as Texas voters went to the polls today.

There was also a strong possibility however, that the senator would fail to get a clear majority of the primary votes cast and would therefore be forced to enter a run-off primary with one or two opponents.

Should O'Daniel win the Democratic renomination, it would be equivalent to re-election. Republicans do not even participate in the primary in Texas, not having polled the percentage of the vote required in the last election.

ALLEGED THREAT MADE

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., July 25.—William Thomas Kramer, 28, of Mansfield, O., was at liberty under $5,000 bond today after a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Ben D. Nicola on a charge that he allegedly said: "If the president walked in front of me to review troops and I had a gun, I would shoot him."

Kramer pleaded not guilty, and was found to the federal grand jury.

War Brings Vital Role To Local NYA Resident Center

Doing two jobs—each one important—is the war-time role of the New Castle National Youth Administration resident center.

Here young men and women between the ages of 17½ and 25 are learning how to become full-fledged war production workers. While they are learning how to operate machines, use hand tools and familiarizing themselves with concepts of war production work they are turning out small but needed articles for the armed services and other war-time agencies—thus they are learning by doing.

At present there are approximately 25 young men and 40 women enrolled in the New Castle center. They are engaged in machine tool and welding work. These young people are filled with the ambition to gain sufficient experience as fast as possible in order to get themselves war-time jobs.

There is an approximate turnover of 80 per cent in this center every three or four months, thus creating new vacancies for additional young people. In addition to the New Castle resident war work center, NYA operated eight other centers located at California, Pa., Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk Reading, South Park (near Pittsburgh), West Chester, Williamsport and York.

Develops Skilled Labor

Originally instituted to afford work experience opportunities to youth from rural and semi-urban areas, the war has emphasized and increased this phase of NYA work. All NYA residents work in centers are now mediums for use in orienting and maintaining the orderly migration and development of unskilled labor from areas having no industrial plants to those in which are located war-time industries having a labor shortage.

In the New Castle center young men are acquiring fundamental concepts of shop work and shop habits through actual production. In addition they are learning the theory and other aspects of modern industry through related industrial training classes given under supervision of the State Department of Public Instruction in cooperation with local school groups.

These future war workers are utilizing every possible resource to turn their latent abilities into the means and methods of producing such articles as small tools, barrack bags, cool boxes, fire fighting helmets, ammunition boxes, shell carriers and target anchors for various agencies.

Training Suggested By War Needs. The great bulk of the work and training given to NYA youth in the New Castle resident center and all other centers throughout the state has been outlined by representatives of private industries holding war contracts. These industrial officials cooperate closely with the NYA in charting war preparation work.

The physical layout of the New Castle resident center includes 16 new buildings erected on a forty-acre campus. The buildings include an administration building, six dormitories, mess hall, two shops, a staff dormitory, a recreation hall, and an infirmary. All of the buildings, with the exception of the shops which are of prefabricated metal, are permanent wooden structures erected for the duration. Equipment in the shops is the special pride of the center since they are fully and adequately provided with proper machinery.

Form Small Cooperative Society

Most young men stay at the Center two months; by that time they have acquired sufficient experience to obtain a job in private war industry. During this time they are paid $30 a month for their project work. Of this sum $20 is returned for board, room and other subsistence expenses. One of the important factors aiding in the successful development of the resident center program in Pennsylvania is the operation of local advisory committees. These committees have arranged for the youth to attend dances, concerts, dramatic presentations, debates and other community activities. The committees also take an active part in developing and maintaining health programs, counseling work and recreational activities.

In effect, an NYA work experience center is a small community in which groups of young men live and work together in a cooperative society. In each center the conduct and discipline of the youth are under the direction of a student council elected by popular vote. Approximately 400 youth a month leave these Resident Centers for jobs in war production industries. Thus, one of Uncle Sam's investments in the effort of the democracies to stamp out the evils of totalitarianism is already paying dividends.

Dear Brother Lion:

King Lion Winter, back from the convention of Lions International at Toronto, Ont., will give his report of the proceedings at our meeting on Tuesday.

We want every member present to hear this report.

There will also be a brief business session.

Yours for victory,

THOMAS I. ELLIOTT,

Secretary.

State Forests Are Financial Success

Forests Are Administered To Serve Highest Use To Commonwealth Citizens

HARRISBURG, July 25.—The state forests of Pennsylvania are beginning financially to justify their existence, says Secretary G. Albert Stewart of the Department of Forests and Waters. The income from the state forests amounted to more than $145,000 for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1942. This amount was deposited in the state treasury and is the largest annual income in the history of the department.

The state forests are administered to serve the highest possible use to the citizens of the Commonwealth. This use includes maximum timber production, careful utilization of water supplies and the provision for recreational needs of the public. They are handled as a business enterprise in accordance with approved practices.

Secretary Stewart pointed out that the department is not only interested in growing, utilizing and protecting timber growth, but also in maintaining an optimum game population and the improvement of fishing streams located in the state forests.

Wholesome recreation is recognized as a major objective in a well balanced program in forest administration. The planting of trees and protecting them from fire by no means all there is to forestry. It is only one important phase of the whole forestry business.

Closely related to the recreational use of the state forests is the service they render as the feeding ground and refuge of animals, game, birds and fish. Hunting and fishing are among the major uses of our state forests and they are coordinated with other forest uses without conflict. In the state forests are many of the best hunting grounds and finest fishing streams in Pennsylvania. A total of 81 primary state game refuges are located in state forest areas.

The time, place, committees and helpers will be announced later. Another meeting will be held next week.

Plans Inquest In Shepp Death

Coroner Nugent Will Conduct Formal Inquiry Into Fatality Next Week

Coroner T. F. Nugent stated today that an inquest will take place next week in the death of Charles A. Shepp, fatally injured on Highland avenue Thursday evening, when struck by an automobile driven by Robert Mulcahy.

In addition to Sheriff Clyde Badger, a number of other persons witnessed the accident. Mr. Shepp it is stated, was walking across Highland avenue from east to west, when the car driven by young Mulcahy came around a bus and struck Mr. Shepp. It is reported he was knocked a distance of 20 feet, and rolled a considerable distance down the street afterwards.

Single War Workers To Be Drafted Soon

(International News Service)

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 25.—The warning that single men in war industries will soon be drafted was left Friday by Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director.

Addressing the international baby chick convention, Hershey declared that war plant managers should take advantage of present opportunities to train replacements. Continuing, he said:

"Three hundred thousand men workers will soon be replaced by women. Single male workers are now being deferred temporarily to give their employers a chance to train replacements. Employers who don't take advantage of this opportunity will find themselves losing large numbers of essential workers before they can be spared."

We can't tell what the enemy will take next. We don't know where our ships have just arrived with supplies for him.

J. Meozzi, E. T. Daugherty, S. Manigault, C. Kennedy, Scott Farley, Garside, Felix Leno, Andy "Chuck" Russo, Patsy Monac, John Carlin, C. B. Chambers. Other railroad officials gave their full support toward making the event a success.

Ninety-Second Birthday Today

At noon today, a family dinner was given at the home of Mrs. W. T. Black, of R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, honoring the attainment of her ninety-second birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Black was born in Mercer county, was married in 1881, and came to reside in this city. For the past thirty five years, she has resided in North Beaver township. Mr. Black died in 1912.

Mrs. Black has four children. Mary, at home, Lawrence, in North Beaver township, Mrs. Ruth Dancer, Toledo, Ohio, Mrs. Roy McCutcheon, of Ellwood City, five grandchildren, and one great grandson.

The honored guest received a number of congratulatory cards, beautiful flowers, and friends called during the day to extend best wishes.

Mrs. Black is in fairly good health.

FLORAL DIAMOND

At the corner of West Madison and Liberty street, a pretty ornamental "diamond" has been formed. The point of ground is enclosed with a well kept low hedge, and growing within are the flowers, carnations, lilies, sweet alyssum, asters and fire bushes.

REMOVING RAILS

Clattering of the electric drills has commenced on Liberty street. Employees have commenced the work of removing the street car rails, beginning at the terminus, near the B. and O. and P. and L. E. Railroad station.

Lutton, stationed at Corry air field, received his rating as a third-class petty officer the day before leaving. Upon his return he will work towards a second-class petty officer rating.

This was Lutton's first leave in 14 months. While here he visited with friends in Butler, Pittsburgh and Tionesta.

New Observation Post Is Occupied

Aircraft Warning Service Now Operating In New Location In Seventh Ward

Aircraft Warning Service which is being rendered by Seventh Ward residents, took on added efficiency today, when the observers here occupied the new observation post, atop a high hill above West Clayton street, away from the noise and bustle of the railroads, and Chief Observer Lee R. Hanna and Chairman Al Stritzinger are most happy.

Heretofore, the observers have been stationed on the B. and O. railroad platform, and when trains passed, it would be impossible to hear any planes in the air because of the noise. The spot was an ideal one, except for this fact.

Appreciation is extended to officials of the railroad for the courtesies extended to the observers during their stay there, which caused some inconvenience to the railroad. This will be eliminated, however at the new post.

MAHONINGTOWN PRESBYTERIAN

During the Sunday morning preaching service at 11, a nursery for children between the ages of 2 and 6, will be maintained at the church. At 7:45 p. m., the congregation will join in the Union preaching service at the Madison Avenue Christian church. Rev. John Earl Myers Jr., pastor.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m., Robert Park, superintendent, Thelma Bumbaugh, pianist. At the close of the Sunday school session, in the main auditorium, there will be a presentation of the American and Christian flags, and the Hon. of Roll, to the church. At 10:45 a. m., the new pastor, Rev. Clyde Roland, will preach the initial sermon of his pastorate. Mrs. C. H. Clark, organist. In the evening, at 7:45, the Union Preaching service will be at this church, with the Christian church choir in charge of music.

WORKMEN INJURED

Two workmen employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., were treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital late Friday morning for slight injuries.

Mike Tizak, of 110 West Miller avenue, employed as a laborer, suffered a smashed toe, when a heavy piece of iron dropped on his foot.

Louis DePorzio, of 613 Forrest street, a carman's helper, had a small splinter of steel removed from his finger, which had chipped off a motor and imbedded itself in his glove, later working into the finger.

MAHONING METHODIST

Sunday morning, there will be a unified Sunday school and church service. Sunday school will commence at 9:45, with Q. E. Davy, superintendent; followed immediately by the morning preaching service at 10:45. The service will conclude at 11:30. In the evening, at 7:45, the congregation will join in the union preaching service of the ward churches, at the Madison Avenue Christian church. Rev. David J. Blasdel, pastor.

State Champs Here Sunday In West Penn Event

Second Annual West Penn Public Links Event Will Bring Stars Here

MIHALIK PARS COURSE THURSDAY

Virtually all of the golfers who stood at the top of the heap in the state Public Links tournament at Hershey, Pa., last week, will be here tomorrow for the second annual West Penn Public Links tourney, which will be staged at the Sylvan Heights course.

Tony Mihalik, who won the state tournament, is favored to top the heap here tomorrow. Mihalik, in a warm-up tour of the course Thursday, finished in even par, 72, which is something of a soggy course particularly the tough municipal layout, following a heavy rain.

He will have plenty of opposition, however, from the local stars, Ted Lach, Martin Segedi, Frank DeMauro, Jackie Snyder, James Galone, et al., who can shoot the course in under those figures when they get hot.

A large number of Pittsburgh stars will be here including Andy Szvedko, who took second place last year with 150, and who is a former National Public Links champ; Carl Kaufman, former national public links champ; George Calhoun, Platt, Joe Scully, Jr., who tied for third place last year, and many others.

Sharon will have a strong aggregation in addition to state champion Mihalik. The Lucas brothers, who helped Sharon win the state cup in the Hershey tourney, and who were high on the list will be here with Mihalik. George Lucas won the West Penn Open here last year with 149, a few strokes over par figures.

The first players tee off at 8 a. m.

Rockets Nab 6-2 Win Over Saints

Led by the hickory work of Dick Cowden and Elbie Peluso, the Rockets stopped the rampaging St. Margaret's nine, 6-2, in a City-County Independent Baseball league set to played on George Washington field Friday night.

Homer Buckingham sprinkled five hits judiciously. Benny Ciccone got two of the Saints' five hits.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Saints.....002 000 0-2 5 1 Rockets.....120 040 x-6 7 0 Batteries: Saints—Desimone Denny, Ciccone and Cardella; Rockets—Buckingham and Tartler.

Moose To Battle Bessemer Monday

Moose and Bessemer play their City Baseball league first half play-off series game on Monday night at 6 o'clock on Marshall field, Scott street.

The game was originally scheduled for Friday night.

A Moose victory will give the Rodenbaughman the crown.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Moose.....000 000 0-1 0 0 Bessemer.....000 000 0-1 0 0 Batteries: Moose—Desimone Denny, Ciccone and Cardella; Bessemer—Buckingham and Tartler.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Dapper Dans of Pittsburgh will stage a five-bout, 10-rounds each boxing program, Monday night at Forbes field, Pittsburgh. It is a grand looking show. The fights will be fought by: Anton Christofordis vs. Moose Brown; Ezzard Charles vs. Booker Beckwith; Fritz Zivic vs. Norman Tubio; Harry Bobo vs. Claudio Villar and Joey Maxim vs. Curtis Sheppard. Local Dapper Dans will attend the show.

Pirates have sent home to Buffalo, Huck Geary to recuperate from a stomach disorder which has been bothering him since he joined the team. H. Jamison Swarts, former director of athletics at Pitt, has been named president of the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball team.

Without a stadium like Taggart, the recent boxing and bomb spectacle could not have been so big a success. Every promise made concerning the no spectators on the playing field was carried out. The school board deserves a vote of thanks. No doubt it will be put in written form when the committee convenes.

Rex Stage Rally To Upset Deweys

Spotting their opponents a half dozen runs, the Rex nine rallied to upset the strong Deweys, 9-8, in a City-County Independent Baseball league fracas played on Lee avenue field Friday night.

The Deweys garnered a handful of runs in the first. The Rex pecked away at the margin and trailed 8-6 in the sixth. A trio of runs settled the issue. Bob Bechtel, for the winners, hit two triples and a double. Brochard collected a two base blow.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Deweys.....011 0010-8 10 1 Rex.....012 123x-9 12 0 Batteries: Deweys—E. Cowden, Congini (6th) and G. Adams; Rex—Bechtel and K. Guinbaugh.

PLAY TWIN BILL Deweys and Rockets will play a twin bill on Sunday afternoon on Cascade field. The opener starts at 2. Congini and J. Adams will be the Deweys' hurlers while Hughes and D. Cowden will toss for the Rockets.

Secretary Nick Lucas today announced that three games are listed for Monday. The pairings: Wampum vs. Deweys, Cascade field.

Rex vs. Rockets, G. Washington field.

St. Margaret's vs. Keys, Ryan-town field.

"Fi" Augostine Trips Columbus

With "Fi" Augostine hurling six-hill ball, the Capitolas, first half champs, started the City Softball league second half race with a sparkling 4-3 victory over the Columbus team, on Progressive field Friday night.

DeVitto and Naples garnered two hits apiece for the Caps while Carbone and Ferrarri did likewise for the losers.

This marked Augostine's seventh victory against no defeats.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Caps.....100 002 001-4 6 1 Columbus.....000 200 001-3 6 1 Batteries: Caps—Augostine and Joe Fava; Columbus—Braky and Cassella.

Umps—Benigase and Smith.

Shut Out Bids For Turf Title

Arlington Top Prize Today About $85,000; Alsab Out Of Classic

By JACK MAHON (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) CHICAGO, July 25.—The three year old turf championship goes on the auction block out at Arlington Park here this afternoon and if that big handsome son of Equus, the colt they call Shut Out can black out the rest of the field in the $50,000 added classic stakes he can call the title all his own.

Headed by Mrs. Payne Whitney's Kentucky Derby and Belmont cup winner, a field of eleven colts were named for this mile and one quarter test, big feature of the Chicago summer season.

With Eddie Ancaro slated for the pilot's seat and a star-studded record behind him Shut Out undoubtedly will go to the post an even money favorite—or less—against such speed kings as regards, Aletan, Valdivia Orphan, Rounders, Kings Abbey, Dogpatch, Bless Me, Anticlimax, Trelawny and Bolus.

Alsab Is Out With Regards, winning of two straight here and the hard luck horse of the Kentucky Derby and the Valdivia entry figure to give Shut Out the most competition. A blind splint that broke up his training program took Alsab, the game little bargain colt owned by Al Sabath, a local lawyer, out of the race and deprived the crowd of a chance to see a great return duel between the derby and preakness winners.

Trainer John Gaver announced that Shut Out was sharp as a tack and seemed ready for the race of his life. He would not say just who he thought his colt would have to beat but it is no secret that Valdivia Orphan, which licked the son of old Ekky in New York, is also on edge and will be right up there most of the way.

Local diamond plants will hum like a hornet's nest Sunday afternoon as City Baseball league rivals go into action again starting at 3 o'clock.

Games carded: Croton at Lawrence Indies, Cedar grounds.

Slovaks at Elders, Marshall field, Scott street.

Moose vs. Ellwood City, Lee avenue field.

Bessemer at West Pittsburgh.

Five Teams Tied Five of the eight teams are deadlocked for first place, each with two wins against a single setback. By late tomorrow afternoon, several of the pace setters will probably make one out of the penthouse.

One of the main clashes is billed for Lee avenue field where the Moose club nine rolls into action against Ellwood City. The Moose is among the five clubs stymied for the top berth while the Tubers have annexed one victory against a pair of setbacks.

Two of the most bitter diamond rivals in town, the Slovaks and Elders, A. C., perform on Marshall field. Losers of six in a row, the Elders pulled out of their slump by blanking the Moose last Tuesday night, 2-0. The Slovaks nipped the Indies on the same night, 2-1.

West Pittsburgh draws the spotlight for one of the bigger clashes involving West, Pittsburgh and Bessemer. The neighborhood foes have each copped two wins against a lone upset.

Croton will call on the Lawrence Indies, on Cedar street grounds, rounding out a card that should satisfy the most fastidious diamond fan.

NAGEL TO ALBANY Toronto released Bill Nagel outfielder, to Albany, of the Eastern League.

Foul Ball Kills Neville Youngster

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, July 25.—Neville Island's No. 1 baseball fan died Friday—victim of a foul ball.

Raymond Ludinani, eight, who rarely missed one of the Neville Island games, was struck by a batted ball, and died in Sewickly Valley Hospital Friday from a fractured skull.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Saturday stuff and things:—

A long range hunch.—The Army will O.K. a Joe Louis-Billy Conn title fight for late September, say at Yale? It's July and Howie Odell, new Ed coach, has 80 gridsmen actually training in earnest.

Suppose you've noticed that the Phillies, playing better ball than Detroit, have beaten the Cardinals four times this season, twice in less than a week. By the way, is it true that there is more than a bit of internal friction in the Detroit Tigers' nest?

If the New York Yankees dispose of Buddy Rosar, don't fall over. Guys to pull that A.W.O.L. stuff don't fit in such an organization, unless McCarthy is changing his ways. The vagaries of an expectant father may save Buddy's hide.

The New York Yankees won't hesitate to fight anyone that the Cleveland Indians give them the stiffest opposition in the A. L. By the looks of things, the Pittsburgh Pirates bought themselves a stomach ache when they purchased "Huck" Geary.

A couple of days have passed by and Frankie Frisch hasn't been banished or the Buccos haven't protested a game. Times must be changing. One of New York's sheets must have slipped up. Ernie Smith's record, 2 wins 16 losses, got mixed up with that of such guys as Borowy, Chandler, Bonham, Hughson, Bagby and Auker—tops in the A. L. so far.

The Chicago White Sox are still trying to win their first victory of the '42 season over the New York Yankees at Yankee stadium. St. Louis Browns officials say it isn't true that they're accepting reservations for the world series.

Note to National Pro testers: The guys who dish out the dope for the Chicago Bears say that Halas' line will be even stronger than last season. Wow! For a sick man, "Red" Rolfe is doing better than all right. During one spree, he batted out four homers in eight days.

Chicago fans wondering if there are any Negro baseball stars able to make the grade in the American and Nat'l leagues will have an opportunity to judge for themselves Sunday at Wrigley Field.

The Kansas City Monarchs and the Memphis Red Sox will hook up in a double header. The day has been designated "Satchel Paige Day" in honor of Leroy "Satchel" Paige, star pitcher in the Negro American League, for many years with the Monarchs.

Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis recently said there is no bar against Negroes becoming members of the Major League teams.

George Shook Gets Penn-State Ump Job Lee Hill, head of the Lawrence County Umpires' association, today announced that George Shook, well known east sider sports enthusiast, makes his debut as an umpire in the Penn-State association tonight in Washington, Pa.

The assignment is of a temporary nature. If Shook satisfies the loop's moguls, he'll have a steady job. Shook has been officiating in the City Baseball league.

Golfer Dot Kirby In Titular Match (International News Service) ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 25.—Dorothy Kirby, defending champion and medalist from Atlanta, Ga., and Jane Crum, of Orangeburg, S. C., meet today in the title round of the annual women's invitational golf championship at the Biltmore Forest country club.

The Browns took their 12th victory in their last 14 starts. Laabs contributed three hits, including a double.

While he hasn't yet advanced to a place among the league-leading hitters, he was just one home run behind Ted Williams' pace-setting 19 and he was third to Williams and Joe DiMaggio in runs batted in with 66, when we looked last.

He is almost certain to wind-up this season with an average of .300 or better, in a contract with his past performance showing his best mark to be an even .300 in 1939. Last season he hit .278, but spiced his stick-work with one record-tying performance, when in a single game he smashed out two homers, a triple, and a double.

Noted Power Hitter He has always been a potentially powerful hitter, despite his comparatively slight frame. Against the likes of Ruth, Gehrig, Mize, York, Greenberg and the other sluggers he looks like a boy who has wandered in to watch the game. But he can hit 'em a mile, especially now that he has found the secret.

Part of the secret was a slight change in his batting stance, the rest was new-found confidence under the wise handling of Manager Luke Sewell.

That's about all there is to it, the result being that the Browns now are the kind of a club that the customers go out to watch play, instead of running off and hiding when they come to town.

New York Giants Move Into Third

Young's Bat Lifts Ottmen; St. Louis Browns-Red Sox Split Twin Bill

BUMS RIP PIRATES; YANKS ROLL ALONG (International News Service) NEW YORK, July 25.—Manager Mel Ott was the toast of Broadway today as his New York Giants basked happily in third place in the National League. They enjoyed a game and a half margin over the Cincinnati Reds as the third place rivals resumed their hand to hand jousting at the Polo Grounds.

Babe Young's eleventh inning homer, his second of the season, enabled the Ottmen to beat the Reds 3 to 2 yesterday. It was the second day in succession that the elongated converted outfielder—Young played first base until big Johnny Mize joined the Giants this spring—had won a game for his side with a circuit blast.

He smacked a home run Thursday to allow the Giants to whip Pittsburgh 6 to 4. Since Young took over in center field a little more than a week ago, the Coogan Bluffers have won seven out of eight games—a near miracle in the minds of Giants fans.

Brooklyn maintained its seven game lead over St. Louis by trouncing Pittsburgh, 6 to 4, as Whitlow Wyatt won his 11th victory. Dolph Camilli sparked a three-run spurge for his Brooklyn mates in the first inning when he clouted his 15th homer of the year.

St. Louis enjoyed an 8 to 0 win over Boston, due to some snip pitching by Max Lanier, who scored his fifth decision.

The scheduled contest between Chicago and Philadelphia was postponed.

Chandler Adds 11th In the American League, the New York Yankees rolled merrily along. Spud Chandler held the Detroit Tigers to four hits to give the Yankees a 3 to 0 victory and himself his 11th win of the year.

Pinky Higgins' error on Joe DiMaggio's grounder in the seventh stanza led to the Tigers' downfall, the Yankees pushing over two runs in that season. Not a single Tiger reached third base as the red-headed Georgian bore down with his newly developed screwball.

Second place Boston split with St. Louis to trail the Yankees by eleven and a half games. The Red Sox won the opener, 5 to 3, in the opening game of a twilight doubleheader then dropped the finale, 3 to 1, as Johnny Niggeling tallied his ninth victory.

Cleveland surged along with a couple of triumphs over Washington 4 to 3 and 5 to 4. Tom Ferrick relieved Jim Bagby to choke a ninth inning rally in the opener, with Bagby getting credit for the victory.

Chicago defeated Philadelphia, 2 to 1, in a game played strictly at night and to the satisfaction of manager Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox.

FANNINS WIN FROM DEAN PARK Fannins defeated Dean Park Dodgers in an American Legion League game at Lehigh field, Friday evening by a score of 11-5, outslugging the Dodgers, for an easy victory.

Tanner, with two homers and a double, led the visitors at bat, while Mills also contributed a pair of two-base blows.

Sunday, the Fannins play the Shamrocks at 3 o'clock at Lehigh field.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Dean Park.....300 001-5 7 1 Fannins.....311 008x-11 10 2 Batteries: Dean Park—Campbell and H. Liebenfelder; Fannins—Young and Mills.

JACKIE CONN ENTERS ARMY (International News Service) NEW CUMBERLAND, Pa., July 25.—Jackie Conn, 20, of Pittsburgh, followed his famous brother, Heavyweight Contender Billy Conn, into the army Friday.

Jackie, himself a heavyweight boxer, predicted shortly after his arrival at New Cumberland induction center that his brother will defeat Joe Louis in their next fight. Brother Billy is stationed at Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, N. Y. The Conns are privates.

PENN AUTO STORES On The Diamond

Unknown Golfer O'Shanter Leader

Gib Sellers, Walled Lake, Michigan, Sets Pace With Two-Round Score Of 137

NELSON IS SECOND; CLAY HEAFNER THIRD (International News Service) CHICAGO, July 25.—Accompanied by all the fanfare of a two-ring circus or a county fair, the $15,000 Tam O'Shanter National Golf Open and its all-American amateur counterpart, rushed toward a climatic finish today over the picturesque Tam O'Shanter country club course.

Lost earlier in the week in the shadows of Hogan, Nelson and Little, the ponderous 190-pound, six-foot frame of 33-year-old Gib Sellers, of Walled Lake, Mich., for the brief space of some 12 hours, at least, cast an ominous shadow over the big money makers of golf who have had covetous eyes on the $2,500 top prize of the Tam O'Shanter open.

Shortly after dawn today Mr. Sellers, who admittedly is torn between his loves for golf and beer, stood at the top of the heap of 77 professionals and ten amateurs on the basis of his two-round score of 137. Sellers' feat is all the more impressive because of the fact that he has never won a major tournament in his 13 years of professional golf. The Walled Lake citizen, who spent most of his golfing life in his native Hot Springs, Ark., and in Kansas City, Mo., rather reluctantly admits that he did win such events as the Michigan Open, the Fenton, Mich., open and the Arkansas open.

Sellers had only a one-stroke lead over Nelson, who incidentally won the Tam O'Shanter inaugural last year, and two strokes over Clayton Heafner, of Linville, N. C., and Dick Metz, of Oak Park. But the devil-may-care attitude of the leader indicates that one stroke may be sufficient for him to hold that advantage through the 18-holes today and the 18 tomorrow.

Three strokes behind Sellers was Hogan, who already has earned some $12,500 in golf this season. Little and Herman Schlarau of Bloomington, Ill., Hogan and Nelson are the odds-on favorites to finish one-two in the tournament, and take your pick as to whom shall be one and two. Last year Nelson carded 278 for first place and Hogan was tied for second with Leonard Dodson, of Kansas City, Mo., at 279 for second place.

While the Tam O'Shanter open packed enough punch to knock out Joe Louis in the first round, the all-American amateur drew the eyes of thousands of fans who still like their sports unspiced by the taint of gold. The all-American amateur will be decided during the course of the day in a 36-hole match between Corp Marvin ("Bud") Ward, national amateur champion from Spokane, Wash., and Wilford Wehrle, of Racine, Wis.

It's a BIG hit even before its gala

Eagle Squadron, Actual War Film, Brings Results

Col. Lemmon Finds Enlistments Increase In Third Corps Area

That the great war picture, "Eagle Squadron," which shows American boys in the Royal Air Force in actual combat scenes, interwoven into a war romance, has been a potent factor in increasing enlistments in the United States air forces is the statement of Col. K. B. Lemmon, C. A. C. commander in charge of aviation enlistments in the Third Corps Area.

In part Col. Lemmon said: "Thousands of applicants are needed this month, and every month for the air corps. If the idea carried out by the Senate theater in Harrisburg was carried out in every theater in the country, 'Eagle Squadron' would produce an ever-increasing volume of recruits all over the nation. 'Eagle Squadron' has the power to give the army a great boost in its all-important drive for aviation cadets."

O. C. D. To Establish Fire Fighter Groups

To Prevent Forest Fires And To Be Run In Co-operation With Local Councils

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, July 25.—The protection of forests from fire is officially recognized as a part of National Defense and the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense has established a forest fire fighters service, which is to be organized and developed in cooperation with state and local defense councils, George H. Wirt, Chief Forest Fire Warden, Department of Forests and Waters, said today.

The purpose of this group is to mobilize men urgently needed in dealing with the serious hazard of forest fires. Forest fire wardens throughout the state are now being enrolled in the Civilian Defense Auxiliary Group. Identification cards are being issued to those enrolled which grants them the authority to perform their duties during blackouts and air raids.

Mr. Wirt states that it is not contemplated that every community within the state will be organized but such places as have timber areas and the existence of a forest fire hazard will be the controlling factors.

Garden Party Raises $3,314 For Children's Home

(Special To The News)
MERCER, July 25.—Officials of the Mercer County Children's Aid Society today reported that the annual Garden Party, held June 24 at Mercer as benefit for the Children's Home, was "the most successful party in the last ten years."

Total proceeds of $3,314.53 was the largest since 1932. Sharon residents, who gave $609.35; were the largest cash contributors at the party.

Other large communities contributed, Farrell, $285; Mercer, $224; Greenville, $127; Sharpsville, $126; Grove City, $46; West Middlesex, $25 and New Lebanon, $14.

Sale of tickets for the party netted $326.35, and sale of membership in the society brought in a total of $568.75, with all communities of the county contributing in this form of revenue.

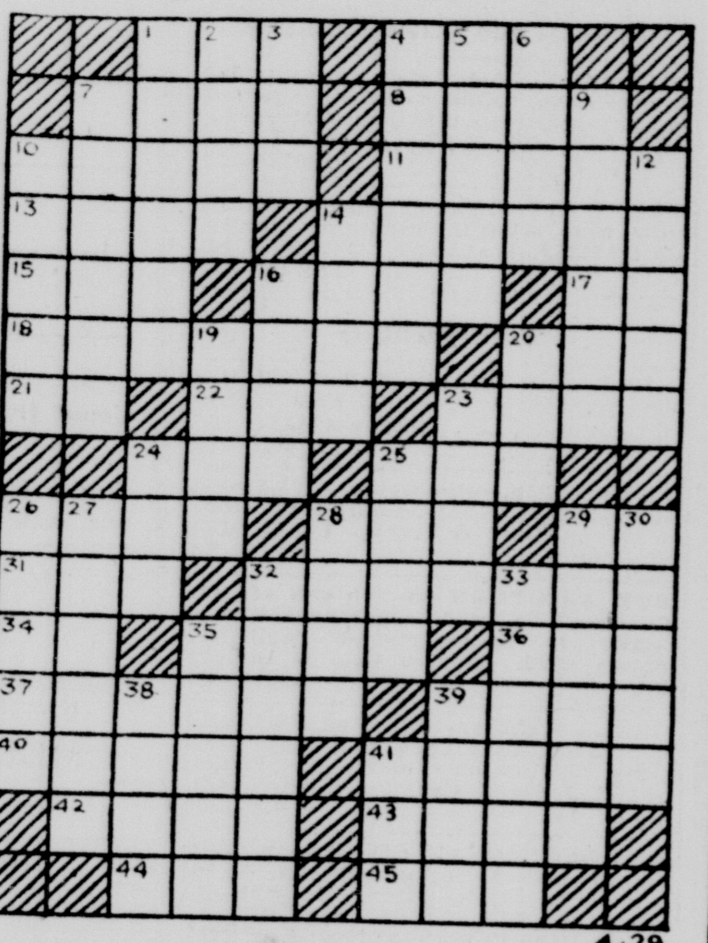

Mrs. Dilling To Fight Transfer

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 25.—Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, anti-Communist crusader and author of "The Red Network," prepared to fight transfer to Washington, D. C., for trial on the charges of conspiring to injure the morale of the armed forces of the United States.

She and two other Chicagoans were among the 28 persons indicted by a federal grand jury in Washington for alleged seditious activities. All were free today, Mrs. Dilling on bond of $5,000.

Stock Market Steady And Still

Some Activity In Rail Group—Stock Changes Of Modest Proportions

(International News Service) NEW YORK, July 25.—The stock market was steady and extremely dull today.

Some color was provided by further activity in the rail groups, reflecting the improved earnings picture for leading carriers. Santa Fe advanced 3/4 to 41 1/2, its best level since 1938, while Southern Pacific was around its 1942 peak of 13 3/4.

Bonds held within narrow limits, although a few speculative rails were in demand.

Allied Chemical rose 1 1/4 points on a single sale.

Elsewhere changes were of modest proportions. Small gains were chalked up by U. S. Steel, American Car & Foundry, Pullman, General Electric, Western Union, Du Pont, Union Carbide, Loew's, United Aircraft and American Tobacco "B."

Minus signs were shown by Standard Oil of N. J., Montgomery Ward, Chrysler, General Motors, Eastman Kodak, Goodrich and Reynolds Tobacco "B."

Jubilee Sports Events Monday

Parade Of Champions To Be Feature Of "Sportsmen's Day"

EVENTS TO START DURING AFTERNOON

ELLWOOD CITY, July 25.—Plans are complete for the parade of sport champions that will be on exhibition starting at 4 o'clock Monday at Ewing Park, in connection with the Golden Jubilee celebration "Sportsmen's Day."

Monday will open up with a Hi-waai ensemble concert at the Municipal buildings under the direction of Mrs. Fred Sturm.

The rest of the day's program is as follows:

4 p. m.—Ping pong, in grove near refreshment stand. Girls' event: Teressa Nash, Playground champs vs. Nellie Tammaro, runner-up.

Boys' event: Buster Lordi, Playground champ vs. Tom Patterson, runner-up and others.

4:30 p. m.—Tennis at tennis courts. Harold and Bernie Mathieson, Koppel, Pa., stars vs. opponents to be named. Others: Ray Miller, Dick and Malcolm Wilson, Ray Miller, Jr.

5:00 p. m.—Trap shooting. Webb Lenz, sports manager of Stambaugh-Thompson Hdwe. Co. will bring a team of Ohio state champs to give an exhibition. Also included will be such local stars as Cy Ingham, ex-county sheriff; "Red" Radermacher, John Grinnen, John Presky and Clarence Scott.

6:00 p. m.—Baseball game: East Liverpool vs. Ellwood Socials. Softball: Stone Quarry Club of Monaca, Greater Pittsburgh-Allegheny league champs vs. Ellwood City Pride, the C. I. O. club. Archery: Clark Neff, chairman is bringing to Ellwood City a group of Western Pennsylvania champions. The group will include E. H. Turnock of Wilksburg, national champion and authority on bow-making. Mrs. W. D. Perry, for state women's champion, and Fred Drake of Pittsburgh, one of Western Pennsylvania's leading archers.

8:00 p. m.—Horsehoes: Under the lights at horseshoe courts. Reds vs. Blues. Two hand-picked teams of local players to determine city championship.

9:30 p. m.—Weight-lifting contest: "Featuring Tom Bradshaw of New Castle, and Dom Mundo and his local stars."

Also five all-star boxing bouts, with Jonny Loccasino as matchmaker.

Queen's Contest Results Uncertain

"Dark Horse" May Emerge As Winner Of Miss Ellwood City Title

ELLWOOD CITY, July 25.—Results of the Ellwood Jubilee Queen's contest is anybody's guess judging by the way in which queen candidates were handling in votes today at the Jubilee headquarters.

Miss Elizabeth McKnight in charge of the Jubilee office said today that the queens were "bringing in votes by the handful."

Winner of the Miss Ellwood City title and runner-up, Miss Columbia, will not be announced until Monday night at 12 o'clock during the Coronation ball at the Elks club. When the final listing of the votes was announced for Thursday night, Miss Mildred Rhea, B. P. W. representative, had a big lead with Miss Phyllis Duncan, American Legion queen, and Miss Donna Harrison, Rotary queen, being close participants for second place.

Tells Of Havoc In Flood Area

Miss Thyra Fulton, Of Local Red Cross, Writes From
Johnsonburg

WILL SUPERVISE REHABILITATION

Miss Thyra Fulton, home service director of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, now area supervisor of the Johnsonburg district of the flooded section of northern Pennsylvania, reports to her office the conditions found in this area.

Miss Fulton, in making her report, asks all Lawrence county people to be most grateful for being spared the tragedy inflicted upon many hundreds of people by mother nature. In Miss Fulton's first report, she gives an estimate of the work to be handled by the American Red Cross not only in her area, but throughout the entire afflicted territory.

There are hundreds of homes that have had four to eight feet of water in their first floors. There are homes completely removed from their foundations and other demolished. The main industry of Johnsonburg is a paper mill employing 1,000 men and the damage there amounts to five hundred thousand dollars. The spirit of the entire population is that of getting back on their feet in the shortest possible time. It is the policy of the Red Cross in any disaster to clear up the rehabilitation work as quickly as possible so the suffering of those afflicted may be as short as possible.

In further commenting on conditions, Miss Fulton reports 20 highway bridges washed out in the disaster area, railroad tracks demolished and telephone service interrupted.

Wonderful for Piles

"Please send at once a large jar of San-Cura Ointment. It is wonderful for piles," writes J. N. Row-buck of Cleveland. Antiseptic San-Cura is no less wonderful for minor burns, cuts, bruises and skin irritations. 35c and 60c at all drug stores.

rupted from time to time due to the electric power being shut off. The extent of the damage from a financial standpoint cannot now be estimated but it will be the work of the Red Cross to rehabilitate each and every family whose resources cannot meet their losses.

It is interesting in studying Miss Fulton's report to note that all of the evacuees are being given bright new clothing made for the war production relief program and now being used to benefit some of the very families whose mothers and wives have volunteered to sew for the Red Cross. A complete store room has been taken over in the downtown area of Johnsonburg and from here Miss Fulton and her volunteers are disbursing new clothing, including layettes, medical supplies, and supplementing food supplies. This program is being repeated in the various areas such as Bradford, Emporium, Coudersport, and Olean, N. Y.

Western Penna. Motorists Using Much Less Gas

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 25.—Patriotic Western Pennsylvanians are voluntarily using less gasoline than motorists in the rationed areas of the East, a survey indicated today.

Donald J. Howard, of the Chamber of Commerce, a member of a Pittsburgh oil co-ordinating committee, said the most-telling evidence of the self-rationing is to be found in the 9 to 21 per cent increase in the volume of persons carried by trolleys and other types of common carriers, including railroads.

"We have found that more than half of this increase represents persons who are not driving their own automobiles," he said.

The committee plans to present its survey to Washington officials to state off direct rationing, and alleviate the 25 per cent cut in deliveries to Western Pennsylvania gasoline stations, if possible.

Jailed Man Won't Break Hunger Strike

(International News Service)
SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 25.—Held in jail in lieu of $5,000 bail following arraignment on government charges of conspiring to undermine the morale of the armed forces, Constantine Leon De Arvan, 55, refused to break his hunger strike and reiterated that he would not eat until he is released.

De Arvan, a San Diego weekly newspaper publisher, began his hunger strike Wednesday night shortly after he was arrested on a telegraphic warrant from Washington where indictments were returned against 28 alleged conspirators.

"Air Raid Warden Your Friend", Sargent

He Must Know Certain Facts
In Order To Help You
In Emergency

"Your air raid warden is your friend. Welcome him; get to know him. He has some advice for you on which your life may depend," said Frank Sargent, chief air raid warden today.

Sargent issued the following advice: Have him meet every member of your family.

Tell him where you are to be found when you are away from home—where you work.

Tell him about any member of the household who is ill or handicapped. Tell him about all small children.

Show him the room you intend to use as a refuge room, ask his suggestions for fitting it up. Follow them—he knows!

Ask him what are the official air raid warning signals, the official "all clear," for your community.

Show him your attic or garret, ask his suggestions for protecting it against incendiary bombs. Also garages or outbuildings.

Carry out his suggestions for storing emergency water, sand, etc., cheerfully and promptly.

Ask him how you can help, where you should go to volunteer your services. Calm, strong, able people are needed for volunteer service. Do your part.

Remember what your Air Raid Warden's name is, what he looks like, where he is to be found. He is your best friend in an emergency. He can protect you and help you to do your share in defeating the Japs, Nazis or any other enemy!

Ford Company Has Tire Plan For Employees

(International News Service)
DETROIT, July 25.—The Ford Motor Company announced Friday that it has presented for government approval a tire replacement plan which is designed to solve the problem of transportation for its more than 200,000 workers without using rubber or any other critical materials.

Charles E. Sorenson, Ford vice president and general manager, announced that the material the Ford Company planned to use for rebuilding tires was a substance known as Ethylene-Polysulfide or Thiokol. Sorenson said that two pounds of this substance would give a tread of one-tenth inch skid thickness, good for 4,000 to 5,000 miles of "moderate" driving.

If the government approves the plan, Sorenson said, the company is willing to offer the process and methods to the country's war industry as a whole.

In the case of Anna Mohrbacher and her husband, Fred J. Mohrbacher, against F. G. Mohrbacher, the court refused the motion for judgment despite the verdict. This was a case in which Mrs. Mohrbacher was riding in the car with her brother-in-law, the defendant, on October 19, 1941. The car was driven by the plaintiff's 17-year-old son John. In an accident Mrs. Mohrbacher was badly injured and both she and her husband sued the defendant. The jury gave her $1010.02 damages and $1000 to the husband.

The defendant claimed his nephew was not his agent in driving the car and the court asked the jury to decide the question of agency. The jury said the boy was an agent and Judge Lamoree has refused the motion for judgment N. O. V.

Age Limits Lowered For Navy's V-1 Class

College Freshmen And Sophomores Eligible; Physical Requirements Lowered

Recent changes in age requirements now permit college freshmen and sophomores, formerly excluded because of age, to enter the navy's V-1 program as potential officer candidates.

This ruling, announced by the office of naval officer procurement, in the Keystone hotel, Pittsburgh, Pa., affects thousands of freshmen and sophomores over 19, who formerly did not have the present opportunity.

The age limit for the V-1 program now ranges between 17 and 26, and modifications also have been made in the physical requirements. Students who have registered for the fall college term may apply immediately. Summer school students in colleges, universities and junior colleges are eligible.

Additional information may be obtained by writing or calling in person at the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, in the Keystone hotel, Pittsburgh, Pa.

English Girl Gunners
In Ack-Ack Batteries

(International News Service)
LONDON, July 25.—The English girls who partly manned several anti-aircraft batteries were saluted yesterday for their coolness in action and accurate fire against German planes which raided an east Anglian area Thursday night.

The girls members of the Women's Auxiliary territorial service, let go with one of the heaviest anti-aircraft batteries as the Nazi planes came over.

The fire from the batteries was most accurate and their aim repeatedly drove off the enemy raiders and frustrated accurate bombing. Nearly as effective as hitting an enemy bomber is the type of anti-aircraft curtain which keeps an enemy plane from getting within range of its target. This, apparently, was the tactic used by the girls.

One particularly exposed battery was cited in the action. The girls, it was said, performed their duties "admirably, coolly and steadily."

While the girls failed to bring down any of the raiders, their fire was heavy enough to unsteady the Nazi flyers and literally make them "cold meat" for R. A. F. night-fighters.

PITTSBURGH, July 25.—Surprise blackouts will not be staged in Allegheny county until a more efficient siren system has been developed. Ross L. Leffler, chairman of the Allegheny county of defense, announced today.

City councilmen, meanwhile, were squabbling over the purchase of sirens. Mayor Cornelius D. Scully urged the immediate purchase of sirens, while his political friend, Council President Thomas E. Kilgallen disagreed sharply.

Scully told council that they should buy sirens right away, even if they aren't perfect. Kilgallen said Boston, Philadelphia and Washington haven't found workable sirens yet, so the city ought to wait until the defense organizations "standardize a system and tell us what to do."

While they are arguing about the sirens, five men accused of violating Wednesday night's blackout test were fined $200 each in police court by Magistrate Frank Zappala. Hearings for three others were continued, while another was discharged.

Chief Air Raid Warden Frank Sargent today stated that for the duration of the war, all commercial establishments using night lights, illuminated windows and signs shall have a night watchman to extinguish all such lights, or equip the building with a cut-out or Black-out switch.

The Black-out (or cut-out switch) shall be placed on the outside of the building with a sign designating it as a Black-out switch.

This switch, in order to be approved by the local Council of civil defense must be one that can turn off lights from the outside. It cannot be one that will enable anyone to turn lights back on from the outside, Sargent stated.

Some home concerns already have installed Black-out switches.

George Raft's Tax Reports Under Fire

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 25.—A secret FBI inquiry into the finances of George Raft, film star, reputedly aimed at recovery of $236,603.60 in back taxes, was revealed in court here today, the New York Journal-American stated.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph C. Kenney asked and received permission from Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter to photocopy affidavits in the 1934 separation suit filed against the movie idol by Mrs. Grace Mulrooney Raft, according to the newspaper, which added:

"Mrs. Raft at that time alleged her husband was earning upwards of $300,000 a year."
